VOLUME XCIV—FIVE CENTS—SUNDAY TEN CENTS

Eight-Story Office Building at Twelfth and Broadway Planned; City to Bid for Produce Trade

PROJECT TO COST CLOSE TO MILLION

Construction Will Be Rushed in Hope of Being Ready For Tenants Coming Fall; Architect Busy On Plans

Ground Floor of Block To Be Utilized To Enlarge Present Bank Quarters, With Vault Capacity Additions

Construction of a new eight-story bank and office building to cost between $750,000 and $1,000,000 on the property now occupied by Leighton's Cafeteria was announced today by the directors of the Oakland Bank of Savings following a meeting yesterday. The question of a new building to provide additional banking quarters has long been in the minds of the directors, Charles E. A. Moore said today.

The firm of Reed & Corlett has been engaged as architects and are already at work on the plans, which will involve the entire remodeling of the present bank quarters. The new building will give the bank 100 by 150 feet of floor space. Included in the plans are provisions for a new vault, to contain 20,000 boxes. The present vaults contain 7000 boxes.

OFFICE DEMAND WILL BE MET, SAID DIRECTORS. The construction of the new building is expected to somewhat relieve the demand for office space in Oakland.

Decision of the board of directors to build at Twelfth and Broadway, indicates that the bank heads believe the center of business activities will remain in the region of Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Broadway, despite prophecies that it might go north of Fifteenth street.

The new building will have a 45-foot frontage on Broadway, extending to the rear of the block. Concerning the construction of the building Moore said: "We have long been intending to construct a new bank building, but did not reach a definite decision until yesterday. We believe that now is the time to build. Although building costs are not exactly stable at present, they cannot be much higher, nor can they drop much lower."

FAITH IN FUTURE OF CITY EXPRESSED. "We have implicit faith in the future of the city of Oakland and its industrial development," Moore said. "We believe that the center of the city's industrial affairs will continue around that intersection."

New Projects Of City Growth Are Announced

COMMERCIAL and financial developments of the first magnitude were announced for Oakland today. They include:

1—Plans for immediate erection by the Oakland Bank of Savings of an eight-story addition to their present bank building fronting on Broadway, to cost $1,000,000. The property now is occupied by a cafeteria.

2—Announcement of negotiations looking to the establishment of a grain exchange in Oakland which would make this city the leading grain port of the Pacific.

3—Removal to Oakland in the event of establishment of a grain exchange of the headquarters of the Farm Bureau Elevator Corporation and the California Grain Exchange. Those organizations will control practically all the marketing of the California Farm Bureau.

Other announcements of importance are said to be impending intimately touching Oakland growth.

Fruit Preserving With Carbon Gas Proves Success

Experiment of Hall Bither in Berkeley Cuts Price of Shipping To One-Tenth.

BERKELEY, May 3.—"Gas" not ice as a means of preserving California fruits in shipments to all parts of the world may become the twentieth century means of revolutionizing the fruit industry of the west. Experiments in the preservation of California fruits by the use of carbonic acid gas have just been completed by Hall Bither, president of the Berkeley Manufacturers' Association. Bither's experiments not only sent fruit across the continent by slow freight processes which reduced the cost of shipping to one-tenth of the cost of the present method, but succeeded in slashing the cost of preserving the products to one-tenth of the cost of the present method.

Both of the cars, according to Bither, started at the same time. At the end of twenty-one days upon their arrival in New York the fruit packed in ice showed indications of turning brown, while Bither declares that the fruit packed in gas retained its original freshness, not even the stems of the figs showing signs of wilting. The fate of the figs preserved under the new process was such that the fruit on the ten days they remained on shelves in a New York store they showed no signs of wilting, he declares.

Experiments in sending dried apples and aprons were also tried with similar successful results. Extensive shipments of all kinds of fruits in a similar manner are planned. The fruit industry of California is admitted by growers. Under the new process, it is declared, fruits may be sent to all points of the world by slow freight, cutting down the high costs of transportation at the present time. Plans to send products by steamer in a similar manner were also tried, cutting down the cost of shipping to one-tenth of the cost of the present method.

Where the sending of fruit by means of the long process, requiring four new supplies of ice en route from Berkeley to New York, cost $100 in the original experiment, the expense of the carbonic acid gas was but $10, says Bither.

The process of preserving fruit will work with great economic results, declares Bither. "The gas has absolutely no effect upon the fruit fruits except that of preservation. It is a non-injurious composition with great preservative qualities. In sending dried fruit not only the preservative of the products is insured, but the lack of oxygen in the car means the death of any bacteria which may have been in the original cartons of fruit."

A Piva, third of the trio, will plead next week.

EXCHANGE TO HANDLE GRAIN IS C. G. PLAN

Opening of New Elevator On Estuary Expected To Result in Rapid Growth in Produce Trade of Oakland

Establishment in Oakland of a grain exchange as a step to making this city the most important grain handling port of the Pacific Coast is under consideration by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and the Farm Bureau Federation, which is now beginning operation here of the largest tidewater elevator west of the mountains.

Conference was held yesterday in San Francisco by the members of the new industries committee of the Oakland chamber and a report will shortly be made to the board of directors of the Farm Bureau Federation. Chief opposition to the move for an Oakland exchange has come from the other grain dealers of San Francisco, who see in the project the necessity of revolutionizing their methods before the modern installation of the Farm Bureau Elevator Corporation.

It is the plan advanced here by the bureau to have joint offices with an Oakland exchange of established facilities are arranged. The exchange will be a state produce exchange, recently incorporated for the purpose of handling crops. A department of the exchange will handle the grain which will move through the great new Oakland elevator. Headquarters temporarily have been in San Francisco, but if the step for the organization of an Oakland exchange is taken the headquarters will be moved here, it is said.

Initial operation of the Western Milling company plant on the estuary by the Farm Bureau under lease delivered this week, was to take place within the next two or three days. A farmer in Stanislaus county, who is shipping 7000 sacks of wheat here, is to have the honor of making the first delivery.

For a time it is stated the elevator will receive grain and sack it and return the sacks to the shipper. This will be replaced by bulk handling as soon as interior facilities are arranged. The elevator for bulk handling will be completed at Montpelier and at Patterson by the end of next week, it was announced yesterday.

HOME LOOTED OF $20,000 WINE STOCK

Hellman Summer Residence on Football Boulevard Raided By Burglars—Contents of Cellar Taken On Truck

More than $20,000 worth of choice wines and liquors, comprising half of the "private stock" was stolen from the summer home of Mr. W. Hellman Jr., widow of the late millionaire San Francisco banker, at Stanley Road and the Football Boulevard early today in a daring break into the premises by burglars.

When discovered at 6 a. m. today by Mrs. Frieda Johnson, maid at the estate, the burglars had disappeared. A J. Kerr, superintendent of the Hellman property, who in turn reported to the Oakland police.

When discovered at 6 a. m. today by Mrs. Frieda Johnson, maid at the estate, the burglars had disappeared. A J. Kerr, superintendent of the Hellman property, who in turn reported to the Oakland police.

They had to saw the padlocks and break the locks of two outer doors, thus gaining entrance to a bit of hallway leading them to a third door. The burglars then took a large hole, reached inside and slipped the bolt.

Having thus cleared the three barriers to the $20,000 cellar, the burglars entered the room. While three servants slept in the floors above while the superintendent slept in his cottage nearby and while a night watchman posted the guard on the lookout for intruders, the burglars loaded case after case of wine, gin, champagne and vermouth onto the truck.

The burglars were not discovered until about 11 o'clock. The truck, which was loaded with wine, gin, champagne and vermouth, was driven away. The burglars were not discovered until about 11 o'clock. The truck, which was loaded with wine, gin, champagne and vermouth, was driven away.

Neither Mrs. Hellman nor her son, who is a University student, staying at the home, but are living in their residence in San Francisco. Mrs. Hellman started for Oakland to determine the extent of the thefts. The figure of $20,000 is an estimate made by Kerr which may be too high, but it is believed that the employees had permission to enter the wine cellar.

The burglars drove their truck in by the main entrance from the road, and left by the rear entrance, which leads into an alley onto the Football boulevard.

Beside Mrs. Johnson, the maid, there were standing in the house the time Charles Dumont, the chauffeur, and Tom Jamott, dairyman. Hulphur, the night watchman, was making his rounds of the estate, and two firemen were on duty. The burglars took nothing later than 1905, scoring the contents of the 1905 theft.

Following is the list of the missing: One case of champagne, fourteen cases of whiskey, three cases rum, four cases brandy, five cases Italian vermouth, one case gin, forty-eight gallons of wine in three-gallon demijohns, three cases of alcohol, 200 cases of California wine.

An exact value of the liquors stolen cannot be made, Mrs. Hellman says, but she estimates the loss at $20,000. The case was left by the maid, Hulphur and O'Donnell. Police Inspector Robert Tracy and Robert Goodwin have been detailed to the case.

SIXTEEN VESSELS HELD IN S. F. BAY BY MARINE TIE-UP
Estimates Place Number of Men Idle Locally At Two Thousand.
Sixteen vessels were tied up in San Francisco bay today by the seamen's strike, an increase of five overnight. In each case the crews had walked out after refusing to sign for another year under a wage scale representing a 15 per cent reduction in pay. Estimates placed the number of men out at 2000. H. H. Harvey, director of shipping board operations here, predicted that one vessel, the Eastern Sailor, would get away today with a non-union crew, but union leaders said it would take a week to get such a crew together. Four of the vessels tied up are passenger carriers. They are the Creole State, a transoceanic liner; the Miami, operating to Hawaii; the City of Paris, running to Latin American ports, and the Curacao, in the coastwise trade. The others are large freighters. The steamer Ventura, scheduled to sail today for Australia, will get away on time, her owners claimed, saying the crew had been signed last week at the old scale. Much interest centered in the effect of the strike on the coastwise lumber carriers, numbering about 130 small vessels. The seamen's leaders expected these ships would be tied up as fast as they reached their home ports. An attempt to operate them with non-union crews was expected.

Tax Reform Held Up To Rush Tariff Bill
By CLARENCE DUBOSE, United Press Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, May 3.—Business men will not know until the latter part of this year what its federal taxes for 1921 will be. Although this uncertainty is one of the factors of the business depression, it was definitely determined today that notwithstanding Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's letter, Congress will adhere to its "tariff first" program, with taxation revision to follow. Representative Longworth, Ohio, Republican leader of the movement to reform taxes first, admitted that he had lost. However, Longworth urged business interests to "discount the delay" and to proceed immediately upon assumption that applicable to 1921 business the excess profits tax will be repealed and other tax thrallies on business modified. Automobiles are said to be found on nearly every farm in the Argentine.

Japanese Envoy Asks Fair Deal For Countrymen

ing international relations. They are unscrupulous and pernicious. They magnify every molehill into a mountain and distort the most laudable intentions into crafty schemings. THOMPSON'S CRITICISM OF HATRED IS ACTIVE
"It is a well known fact that the so-called propaganda has made rapid growth during the past few years as an incident of war. This is a powerful weapon, and when used for the dissemination of truth tends to inspire confidence and good will between nations. Such activities, however, when set in motion with the definite purpose to deceive the public and to stir up suspicions, hatreds and antagonisms, become a formidable tool for evil and, unfortunately, Japan has been the subject of a deliberate enemy propaganda. "One of the charges constantly brought against the Japanese is that he is not assimilable. Whether or not he can be physically assimilated, when he comes in contact with other races, is of secondary consideration. What he does claim is that, when given the opportunity and privilege, he is capable of these intellectual and spiritual assimilations which are compatible with good citizenship, dignified manhood and loyal service to the community in which he resides. PAIR PLAY ASKED FOR JAPANESE NATIONALS
"But, lest I be understood as urging some action upon the American people which is distasteful to them, it is proper for me to reiterate the oft-repeated declaration of my government that Japan claims no right, nor has she in fact any intention of sending emigrants to this country. She has held consistently to the policy of plus ca change, plus s'engage. She only asks for her nationals lawfully resident in this country that just and equitable treatment which is in line with the fine tradition of the American people. She desires nothing more—nor can she be satisfied with anything less. "Sane and honest diplomacy, backed by sense, reason and charity and mutual accommodation will alone lead to the lasting settlement of these problems. There is absolutely no other course."

FOUNDER SECRETARY OF STATE

(Copyright, 1921, by Houghton Mifflin Company, as "The Peace Negotiations: a Personal Narrative." Published by special arrangement with Houghton Mifflin Co.)

(Robert Lansing today declares he is certain that appeared to the American secretary of state as threats of Clemenceau to withdraw French support of the League of Nations induced President Wilson to agree to "the treaty of alliance" with France and Great Britain—a proposition which makeshifts to get the league across.)

CHAPTER XVIII

The Proposed Treaty With France

There is one subject connected with the consideration of the mutual guaranty which, as finally reported by the commission on the League of Nations, appears as Article 10 of the covenant, that should be briefly reviewed, as it directly bears upon the value placed upon the guaranty by the French statesmen who accepted it. I refer to the treaties negotiated by France with the United States and Great Britain respectively. These treaties provided that, in the event of France being again attacked by Germany without provocation the two powers severally agreed to come to the aid of the French republic in repelling the invasion. The joint nature of the undertaking was in a provision in each treaty that a similar treaty would be signed by the other power, otherwise the agreement failed.

The undertakings stated in practically identical terms in the two treaties constituted, in fact, a triple defensive alliance for the preservation of the integrity of French territory and French independence. It had the same object as the guaranty in the covenant, though it went even further in the assurance of positive action and was, therefore, open to the same objections on the grounds of constitutionality and policy as Article 10.

CONCESSIONS MADE BY WILSON DISCUSSED

In a note dated March 20, stating my "Impressions as to the Present Situation," I discussed the endeavors being made by the President to overcome opposition and to remove obstacles to the acceptance of his plan for a League of Nations by means of compromises and concessions. In the note appears the following:

"An instance of the lengths to which these compromises and makeshifts are going occurred this morning when Colonel House sent to Mr. White, General Bliss and me, for our opinion on the following proposal: That the United States, Great Britain and France enter into a formal alliance to resist any aggressive action by Germany against France or Belgium, and to employ their military, financial and economic resources for this purpose in addition to exerting their moral influence to prevent such aggression."

"We three agreed that if that agreement was made, the chief reason for a League of Nations, as now planned, disappeared. Still, France and Belgium were concerned the alliance was all they needed for their future safety. They might or might not accept the league, but course they would if the alliance depended upon their acceptance. They would do almost anything to get such an alliance."

"The proposal was doubtless made to remove two principal objections which the French are most insistent. First, an international military staff to be prepared to use force against Germany if there were signs of military activity; second, the creation of an independent Rhenish republic to act as a 'buffer' state. Of course the triple alliance would make these measures needless."

SAID PACT WOULD BE LAUGHED AT, REJECTED

"What impressed me most was that to gain support for the league the proposer of the alliance was willing to destroy the chief feature of the league. It seemed to me that there was utter blindness as to the consequences of such action. There appears to have been no thought given as to the way other nations, like Poland, Bohemia and the southern Slavs would view the formation of an alliance to protect France and Belgium alone. Manifestly it would increase rather than decrease their danger from Germany as she would be free to concentrate her efforts on the eastward and southward for expansion. Of course they would not accept as sufficient the guaranty in the covenant when France and Belgium declined to do it."

"How would such a proposal be received in the United States, with its traditional policy of avoiding 'entangling alliances'? Of course when one considers if the proposal is preposterous, and would be laughed at and rejected."

This was the impression made upon me at the time that this triple alliance against Germany was first proposed. I later came to look upon it more seriously and to recognize the fact that there were some valid reasons in favor of the proposal. The subject was not further discussed by the commissioners for several weeks, but it is clear from what followed that Mr. Clemenceau, who naturally favored the idea, continued to press the President to agree to the plan. What arguments were employed to persuade him I cannot say, but knowing the shrewdness of the French premier in taking advantage of a situation, my belief is that he threatened or at least gave the impression that he would withdraw support of the League of Nations or the covenant creating a general staff, unless an agreement was reached and on a provision in the treaty establishing a Rhenish republic or else ceding to France all territory east of the Rhine. To avoid the adoption of either of these provisions, which would have endangered the approval of his plan for world organization, the President submitted the French demand. At least, I assume that was the reason, for he promised to enter into the treaty of protection which Mr. Clemenceau insisted should be signed."

FRENCH SUPPORT FOR LEAGUE, WILSON'S WISH

It is, of course, possible that he was influenced in his decision by the belief that the knowledge that such an agreement existed would be sufficient to deter Germany from even planning another invasion of France, but my opinion is that the desire to win French support for the covenant was the chief reason for the promise that he gave. It should be remembered that at the time both the Italians and Japanese were threatening to make trouble unless their territorial ambitions were satisfied. With these two powers disaffected and showing a disposition to refuse to accept membership in the proposed League of Nations, the isolation of France to the covenant would have been fatal. It would have been the end of the President's dream of a world organized to maintain peace by an international guaranty of national boundaries and sovereignties. Whether France would in the end have insisted on the additional guaranty of protection is a doubtful matter, but it is evident that Mr. Wilson believed that she would and decided to prevent a disaster to his plans by acceding to the wishes of his French colleague."

Some time in April, prior to the acceptance of the treaty of peace by the plenipotentiaries of the allied powers, the President advised me of his decision to accept the triple alliance, which was delivered to the German plenipotentiaries, stating in substance that his promise to enter into the alliance formed a part of the agreement as fully as if written into the treaty. I told him that personally I considered an agreement to negotiate the treaty of assistance a mistake, as it contradicted Article 10 of the covenant, which he considered all-important, and as it would, I was convinced, be the cause of serious opposition in the United States. He replied that he considered it necessary to adopt this policy in the circumstances, and that, at any rate, having passed his word with Mr. Clemenceau who was accepting the treaty because of his promise, it was too late to reconsider the matter and useless to discuss it."

LANSING SIGNS PACT THOUGH SAGGING

Subsequently the President instructed me to have a treaty drafted in accordance with a memorandum which he sent me. This was done by Dr. Scott and Mr. Balfour. The draft was approved and prepared for signature. On the morning of June 28, the same day on which the treaty of Versailles was signed, the plenipotentiaries of the United States, France and Great Britain signed the triple alliance at the Place des Etats Unis by Mr. Clemenceau and Mr. Pichon for the French republic, and by Mr. Lansing and myself for the United States. Lloyd George and Mr. Balfour signing at the same time a similar treaty for Great Britain. Though dissatisfied with the policy of the President in regard to this special treaty it would have been futile for me to have refused to accept the full powers which the President had conferred and declined to follow the directions to act as plenipotentiary in signing the document. Such a course would not have prevented Mr. Wilson from entering into the defensive alliance with France and Great Britain and might have actually delayed the peace."

Feeling strongly the supreme necessity of ending the existing state of war as soon as possible I did not consider that I would be justified in refusing to act as the formal agent of the President in disobeying his instructions as such agent."

In view of the long delay in ratification of the treaty of peace, I have since doubted whether I was wise. But at the time I was convinced that the right course was the one which I followed."

In spite of the fact that my judgment was contrary to the President's, as to the wisdom of negotiating this treaty because I considered the policy of doing so bad for the standpoint of national interests and the doubtless certain rejection of it by the United States Senate and of its probable effect on any plan for general disarmament, I went on to sign the treaty because I could not disregard the fact that an argument could be made in its favor which was not without force."

THREAT OF INVASION INFLUENCED FRENCH

The United States entered the war to check the progress of the autocratic imperialism of Germany. The purpose was generally recognized before the victory was won. In making peace it was deemed, therefore, a matter of first importance to make impossible a revival of the aggressive spirit and ambitious designs of Germany. The prevailing bitterness against France because of the territorial concessions and the reparations demanded by the victor, and the natural desire of the German people to seek future opportunity to be revenge. With a population almost, if not quite, double that of the French republic, Germany would be a constant menace to the nation which had suffered so terribly in the past by reason of the imperialistic spirit prevalent in the German empire."

The fear of that menace strangely influenced the French policies during the negotiations at Paris. In fact it was hard to avoid the feeling that the four material effects of the conduct of the French delegates and the attitude of their government. They demanded much and recognizing the probable effect of their demands on the German people, sought to obtain special protection in case their vanquished enemy attempted in the future to dispossess them by conquest and invasion. They had been compelled to surrender or attempted to make them restore the indemnity paid."

Whether France could have avoided the danger of German attack in the future by lessening her demands, however just they might be, is neither here nor there. It makes little practical difference, how that danger is averted. The important fact is that the settlements in favor of France under the treaty were of a nature which made the continuance of the general protective treaty doubtful if Germany possessed the ability to regain her military strength and if nothing was done to prevent her from using it. In the circumstances a special protective treaty seemed a practical way to check the conversion of the revengeful spirit of the Germans into another war of invasion."

AMERICAN INTERESTS AGAINST ALLIANCE

However valid this argument in favor of the two treaties of assistance and though my personal sympathy for France inclined me to satisfy her wishes, my judgment, as an American commissioner, was that American interests and the traditional policies of the United States were against this alliance. Possibly the President recognized the force of the argument in favor of the treaty and valued it so highly that he decided to keep it knowing, however, his general attitude toward French demands and his confidence in the effectiveness of the guaranty in the covenant. I believe that the chief reason for promising the alliance and negotiating the treaty was his conviction that it was necessary to make this concession to the French in order to secure their support for the covenant and to check the disposition in certain quarters to make the League of Nations essentially a military coalition under a central international staff organized and controlled by the French."

There were those who favored the mutual guaranty in the covenant, but who strongly opposed the separate treaty with France. Their objection was that, in view of the general guaranty, the treaty of assistance was superfluous, or, if it were considered necessary, then it contradicted the covenant's guaranty. The argument was logical and difficult to controvert. It was the one taken by delegates of the smaller nations who relied on the general guaranty to protect their countries from future aggressions on the part of their powerful neighbors. If the guaranty in the covenant was sufficient protection for them, they declared that it ought to be sufficient for France. If France doubted its sufficiency how could they be content with it?"

Since my own judgment was against any form of guaranty imposing upon the United States either a legal or a moral obligation to employ coercive measures under certain conditions arising in international affairs, I could not conscientiously support the idea of the French treaty. The fiercer departure from America's historic policy caused me to accept President Wilson's guidance and direction. . . . With increasing reluctance, as he aptly expressed it, in his letter of April 11, 1920. We did not agree, we could not agree, since our points of view were so much at variance."

PERSONAL RELATIONS CONTINUED EXCHANGED

Yet in spite of the divergence of our views as to the negotiations, which constantly increased and became more and more pronounced during the six months at Paris, our personal relations continued unchanged; at least there was no outward evidence of the actual breach which existed. As there never had been the personal intimacy between the President and myself such as existed in the case of Colonel House and a few others of his advisers, and as our intercourse had always been more or less formal in character, it was easier to continue the official relations that had previously prevailed. I presume that Mr. Wilson felt, as I did, that it would create an embarrassing situation in the negotiations if there was an open rupture between us or if my commission was withdrawn or surrendered and I returned to the United States before the treaty of peace was signed. The effect, too, upon the situation in the Senate would be to strengthen the opposition to the President's purposes and furnish his personal, as well as his political, enemies with new grounds for attacking him."

I think, however, that our reasons for avoiding a public break in our official relations were different. The President undoubtedly believed that such an event would jeopardize the acceptance of the covenant by the United States Senate in view of the hostility to it which had already developed. I went on to sign the treaty at Paris and certainly in its ratification at Washington. Considering that the time had passed to make an attempt to change Mr. Wilson's views on any fundamental principle, and believing it a duty to place no obstacle in the way of the signature and ratification of the treaty of peace with Germany, I felt that there was no alternative for me as a representative of the United States other

BAY BOOSTERS GET TOGETHER WITH VOLOITES

Oakland and San Francisco
Delegation Warmly Welcomed At Woodland.

WOODLAND, May 3.—Woodland gave the Bay Boosters who visited this city last night a rousing reception and assured the visitors that every civic and business organization in Yolo county will co-operate with the San Francisco and Oakland men in making the great source of supply the Sacramento valley—bigger, better and a larger producer. The meeting was sponsored by the Woodland Ad Club.

A reception at the board of trade rooms preceded the mass meeting held in the open, and the boosters were addressed by: Don Carlos Nason, newspaperman; L. J. Moser, Esq., mayor general; H. H. Monroe, California Pacific Title Insurance Co.; J. Eppinger, president S. V. Restaurant Men's Association; Walter Bush, capitalist; W. A. Clark, realty broker; W. C. Clark, insurance; C. W. Banta, vice-president Wells Fargo National bank; Alden Ames, attorney; Oscar Wolf, manager Phoenix Insurance Co.; Harry Linnane, writer; C. E. Knize.

Fred Shaffer of the Yolo Board of Trade delivered the address of welcome to the visitors, impressing the visitors with the fact that the total production of California was worth one billion dollars annually, and that of this amount $650,000,000 is credited to agriculture and its allied industries.

"Every time a cash register rings," said Shaffer by way of explanation, "sixty-five cents of every dollar can be credited to agriculture. San Francisco has in the past sold with its face turned toward the setting sun and its back upon the great empire responsible for its maintenance and development. We are hopeful that the condition has changed and Northern California will join as a neighborly unit in the invitation to walk together the path leading to mutual prosperity."

Record Farm Price Paid At Martinez

MARTINEZ, May 3.—Sale of 30 acres of land near Pacheco by Alice M. and H. E. Peterson to Vittorio Lavagnino of Concord, is recorded in a deed filed with the county recorder today. Revenue stamps on the instrument indicate the consideration was $17,000 or more than $500 an acre, a record price for farming land in this vicinity.

than to obey the President's orders, however strong my personal inclination might be to refuse to follow a line of action which seemed to me wrong in principle and unwise in policy."

(In his next installment Lansing will deal with the lack of an American program for actual peace settlements at Paris, Wilson being concerned wholly with the League of Nations.)

FRESNO STORE SWEEP BY FIRE; LOSS $360,000

Flames Fanned By High Wind
—Buildings and Residences Damaged.

FRESNO, May 3.—Fire which broke out shortly before 2 o'clock this morning destroyed the H. Graft & Co. grocery store at Kern street and Van Ness avenue here, and damaged a score of stores and residences within a block of the establishment with a total estimated loss of $360,000.

From the time the fire was discovered at 2 o'clock it was but half an hour until the building had been burned. There were no injuries. Windows in adjacent buildings and in buildings across the street were cracked and broken by the terrific heat.

The fire was discovered at 1:55 by a waiter who was on his way home. He rushed to a nearby hotel where he notified the night attendant, who made an attempt to reach headquarters on the telephone. The latter stated it was five minutes before he was able to get central and when the fire department did arrive the store was enveloped in flames and the blaze had leaped across the streets under the pressure of a high wind.

Insurance to the extent of 50 per cent value of the stock was carried by the Graft Company.

FOUR BELIEVED IN AUTO THEFT RING

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—With the arrest here today of two men and two women the police believe they have in custody a ring of automobile thieves operating both here and in Los Angeles. Although the quiet under arrest protest their innocence and say the automobile in which they were found is the property of one of them all were taken to the city prison and charged with grand larceny. They are:

George Boehm, clerk 30 years old, and his wife Ruth, aged 22. Thomas Conway, salesman, 20 years old, and his wife Lenora, aged 20. The arrest of the four accused persons occurred at 3 o'clock this morning on 24th street between Irving and Utah streets. Responding to a telephone call, Patrolmen Danahy, Gleason and Bourke went to the scene. They found the street at this point a mess of repair and almost impassable. In the block were two machines. In one of them two women were sitting, while the other, 70 feet away, was empty, with two men sitting on the inside. The men, surprised by the officers, were immediately taken into custody. They moved to be Conway and Boehm. The former said the other car was the property of his wife who with Mrs. Boehm was seated in it. Confronted with the fact that it bore a license with the name Miss L. L. Schmidt, Conway said that was his wife's maiden name. Just to the east of this machine was found a half case of eggs and three automobile tires. The other car had contained the eggs as well as had been stolen earlier in the evening.

SHOTGUN FIXED TO TRAP THUGS KILLS BURGLAR

NEW YORK, May 3.—A man

trap, consisting of a sawed-off shotgun connected with the knob of a cellar door by a cord and several pulleys, in the home of Adolph Zukor, motion picture producer, at N.Y.C., was sprung late last night by a burglar, who was instantly killed.

This contrivance was designed by Patrick H. Murphy, superintendent of the estate, after the place had been visited three times by burglars within the last ten days. Murphy explained that during the absence of Zukor, who is in Europe, he became alarmed by the frequent burglaries, and accordingly set the trap as a precautionary measure.

The dead man, who was found near the door of the cellar, was identified as Edward Coates, a former convict, who had served a term in Sing Sing prison. It is believed that Coates was accompanied by a companion who escaped.

Ring Identifies Body Buried Under Hall

PORTLAND, Ore., May 2.—Identification of the remains of a woman found several weeks ago beneath a dilapidated building as those of Mabel Phillips, aged 26, daughter of Mrs. Laura Clune of Hawthorne, Calif., was announced here today by Deputy Coroner Goetsche. An old wedding ring, inscribed "Billie to Vera," enabled relatives to establish the identity. The police at first believed the dead girl to be "Vera," but a sister told the coroner that the ring had belonged to another sister, who died prior to the disappearance of Mabel Phillips. Mabel had carried the ring after her sister's death, she said. The bones were buried Saturday at Oregon City by Mrs. Clune. Mabel Phillips was last seen by her mother on July 22, 1914. The police

FREE TEN YEARS, CONVICT IS SENT BACK TO PRISON

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 2.—M. E. Jackson, a farmer 60 years old, was returned to the Arkansas penitentiary today after an absence of almost ten years, during which he has been residing at his farm in Mississippi county and mingling with his neighbors, who supposed Jackson, under sentence for murder in 1911, had been pardoned. Jackson was made a trustee shortly after going to prison. It is presumed he left without permission and remained unmolested.

have no clue to explain how the body was placed under the building, which had formerly been used as a dance hall.

Unions Given Right To Fix Own Wages

RIGA, May 2.—The Moscow Izvestia, a copy of which has been received here, says a new decree by Nikolai Lenin, the Russian Soviet premier, gives the trades union, instead of the government, the right to fix the pay of workmen.

HEROES' BODIES COMING

CHERBOURG, France, May 2.—The United States Army transport Wheaton with 2800 bodies of American soldiers aboard sailed for Antwerp yesterday. At Antwerp the transport will receive one thousand more bodies and then sail for New York.

A ONE WORD ANSWER

"My dear, you are a dream in this ravishing gown. Only yesterday I remarked on that tiny tailor suit of yours. I can't see how you do it. Really, if I were not so fond of you I should be greenly jealous. Helen, Tom and I feel very proud and glorious, both with entire new outfits. But you need not be jealous for you and your better half can both dress up the same as we just by going where we did."
"Not really? Speak up. How and where?"
"It's a one word answer, Cheryl's. My store for women is 515 15th street. There you can buy on credit the highest class wearing apparel for both men and women, at prices no higher than the cash store, in spite of the easy way of paying. Try to beat it!"—Advertisement.

CONVINCING A MAN WHO HELD DENTISTS IN DOUBT

Not An Ordinary Task, But One That Is Successfully Met Daily By the Dr. Anderson Method of Dependable Dentistry

"An employee of the S. F. O. T. Railway had had two bridges made by other dentists, which proved unsatisfactory in every way. He lost faith in dentists and was rather skeptical when a friend recommended that he see Dr. C. Anderson, who is establishing new records for good dentistry, at 1235 Broadway. The man I mention is Mr. E. Rerkheimer, who resides at 1445 First Avenue, in this city. We removed the useless bridge from Mr. Rerkheimer's mouth and commenced the work of preparing a new bridge to replace it. When completed he was not only convinced after all that there is a difference in dentists, but was thoroughly satisfied and willing to recommend the Dr. Anderson method of good dentistry to anyone." "The Dr. Anderson method, as used in this office, makes dentistry safe, rapid and efficient—eliminating all possibilities of mistake." "Even if you think you have good teeth, it might be worth while to make this inexpensive test—X-ray pictures reveal the dark secrets of your mouth plain as daylight. The X-ray is only one of a hundred modern methods which we employ in the practice of up-to-date dentistry. Twenty-five years' experience is a record of achievement to which we direct attention—Advertisement."

Former Postmaster Sentenced For Theft

FRESNO, May 3.—Warren Rogers, formerly postmaster at McKittick, Kern county, pleaded guilty before Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe in the federal court here yesterday to embezzlement of $4655.11 of postal funds on March 18, 1920, and was sentenced to serve a year in the Kern county jail. The defendant told the court that he had sold his home in order to make good the defalcation. A grand jury was impaneled at the opening session of the court and pleadings heard on cases involving alleged violations of the Volstead act.

CHICAGO MUSEUM BUILT AT COST OF $6,750,000 OPENS

Great Marble Structure Begun After World's Fair by Rich Merchant Completed.

CHICAGO, May 3.—The great marble home of the Field Museum of Natural History which has cost $6,750,000 was opened here today. The structure forms one of the most impressive features of Chicago's downtown lake front.

It has made the museum, which contains for American supremacy with the American Museum of Natural History in New York and stands among the four leading scientific institutions of the world, readily accessible to the city public.

Hitherto the Field Museum has been located in Jackson Park in the old Fine Arts Building of the Chicago World's Fair, which gave the museum birth. The new building follows the plan of the old.

It has taken seven months to move the collection from the south side to downtown. Spur railroad lines are established from the two buildings to a railroad line and in addition motor cars were used. A year was assigned for the task and its completion in five months less is regarded by the museum staff as a remarkable achievement. The job made the longest "moving day" the west has yet seen.

There is nothing comparable to the museum's display of the world's animals grouped in their natural habitat, according to museum officials, while also in botany no other institution is in the same class. Its collections of minerals and of Chinese archeology are held to be without parallel.

The museum was planned toward the close of 1893 to commemorate the World's Fair of that year. Marshall Field, a Chicago merchant, insured the success of the project with a subscription of $1,000,000 and the museum took its name from its chief donor. Field gave subsequent financial support during his lifetime and in his will left $4,000,000 for a building fund and $4,000,000 for endowment. The collection had its nucleus in a great many of the fair exhibits.

"SAVAGE BREAST" REFUSES TO BE CALMED BY JAZZ

NEW YORK, May 3.—Humans may like jazz, but animals don't. This was the conclusion reached by a group of scientists who reached to see what a saxophone and traps would do to the emotions of jungle beasts.

A quintet of musicians guaranteed to rag anything from Wagner down was massed in front of the monkey cages to determine whether the line "music hath charms to soothe the savage breast" was, after all, only poetic license.

According to a corps of unscientific reporters who journeyed to the zoo with scientists the monkeys registered emotion all right—but of a rather savage kind.

Then the latest jazz was banged into the ears of lions and their mates. All hopped to their feet, with fur bristling.

Only one beast was found that apparently was able to endure, if not enjoy, jazz. That was Bagheeta, the leopardess. But when a lynx was played she started spitting sparks.

PANAMA ORDERED BY U. S. TO YIELD IN COTO DISPUTE

Hughes' Note Says America Is Prepared to Enforce Decision If Needed.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Panama must act voluntarily "within a reasonable time" or the United States will take steps to compel her to transfer to Costa Rica the disputed Coto territory, the latest note of Secretary of State Hughes informs the Central American republic.

The Panama claim that its title to the disputed territory had been unchallenged since Colonial times the note holds as in no way "entitling Panama to demand the occupation of that territory which was adjudged to be a portion of the territory of the Republic of Costa Rica, in accordance with a boundary line formally declared clear and indisputable."

After stating that the American government desires Panama to take

DARWIN THEORY PURE FICTION, ASSERTS BRYAN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 3.—William Jennings Bryan, in a lecture here last night declared the teaching of the Darwin theory in schools and colleges to be one of the greatest "pending problems" this country has to grapple with.

Teachers and professors in schools supported by public money, he said, are turning the youth of the land out into a "starless night," robbing them of their faith in immortality and a Heavenly Father and substituting "cold, clammy materialism," that "reduces Christ to the nature of a man and gives him an ape for an ancestor."

The Darwinian theory, Bryan declared, is not scientific. "It is wilder fiction than Arabian Nights," he said.

U. S. COWS IN GERMANY BREMEN, May 3.—The American steamer West Arrow has arrived with 718 cows and 70 calves, given to Germany by farmers in North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa and Wisconsin. This was the second cargo of cows brought to this port by the West Arrow.

APPEAL IS MADE FOR MONEY FOR STARVING CHINA

Famine Week Opens: Northern California to Raise Its Share.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—This is China Famine Week, proclaimed such by Governor William J. Stephens in consonance with similar proclamations by the governors of other states of the Union, to bring to the attention of America's efforts to save the lives of 5,000,000 starving men, women and children in five drouth stricken provinces of China. In Northern California the week is being sponsored by the Northern California China Famine Relief Committee, headed by Captain Robert Dollar of San Francisco. Northern California have been asked to proclaim China Famine Week locally.

MASS MEETING CALLED.
A mass meeting of San Francisco's citizens, aided by the Chinese Citizens Association, will be held here in the Exposition Auditorium Tuesday night, May 4, to focus the attention of San Francisco and Northern California on the immediate emergency. He met if the lives of these starving people of China are to be saved. Similar meetings are to be held in other cities of Northern California and contributions solicited for immediate relief transmission to the all-American committee in Peking under the direction of the American Minister to China, Charles R. Crane.

The San Francisco China Famine Week meeting will be addressed by Mrs. Charles R. Crane, the American minister's wife, who arrived here last week direct from the famine area. She will tell the terrible story of these peasants who are facing death, after two years of sun-blasted crops, with no food, no clothes, no fuel and virtually no shelter.

MORE MONEY NEEDED.
To date the American Committee for the China Famine Fund, headed by Thomas W. Lamont of New York City, has raised in co-operation with the American Red Cross and the major Protestant bodies of the country more than $5,000,000.

The money is exhausted and more money must be raised immediately. Captain Robert Dollar has personally given $20,000. Committee begs all who can spare even three cents to send what they can immediately by check or money order in favor of the Chinese Famine Relief Committee, 511 California street, or to the Bank of California in San Francisco.

During China Famine Week nearly a million China Life Saving Stamps, selling at 8 cents each—a figure estimated by the American Committee working in Peking as sufficient to feed a famine victim for one day, will be sold.

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you are suffering with catarrhal deafness or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parlioth (rubbery cathartic). Add to it 10 grains of Epsom salt and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils stop breathing, become clogged and the mucus drops into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any doctor who tells you that deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial. Advertisement.

WINE AND BEER SALES HELD UP AT WASHINGTON

Plan To Manufacture Liquor
As Medicine Blocked
By Treasury.

By W. H. ATKINS,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The "dry" scored heavily today in a fight against beer and wine sales by forcing the treasury to hold up regulations governing malt and vinous liquors.

Acting upon a new draft of rules authorizing druggists' sales of such liquors on physicians' prescriptions, was postponed for an indefinite period, pending the results of new "dry" legislation in Congress.

The treasury's decision to withhold authority for such liquor sales

Emma Goldman Longs to Get Back to America, She Says

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—"I would be willing to get down on my knees and scrub floors, and I would further forsake my teaching of socialism, radicalism or communism, or whatever you may prefer to call it, in order to get back to the United States."

That is the message Emma Goldman, deported as an undesirable citizen from the United States a year ago, sends back from Russia to her friends in America through L. M. Foster, an oil operator, who has just returned from Siberia.

Foster, who was a member of the American expeditionary forces in France, returned from the war early in 1919 and a few months later went to Russia on business.

He had known Emma Goldman in this country, and when he met her at Vladivostok they had dinner together.

The impression in this country that the "reds" deported from here were received with open arms in Russia is a mistake, according to Foster, who declares that Mrs. Goldman is constantly under suspicion, as are others who went from here. He declares that they are not trusted, are ill fed and not well liked.

"I would be glad to go back and forsake all my life teachings," Foster quotes Mrs. Goldman as having said. "People back in America don't know how well off they are until they have had my experience."

to the public came after conferences when officials agreed new rules would be premature in view of the prospect of new amendments to the Volstead law.

By today's election, which practically side-tracked carefully drawn regulations, under which breweries would have been allowed to go ahead with speed making "medicinal" beer with a kick and sales to the sick would have been authorized in amounts of 4 1/2 gallons at one time, the machinery for issuing these permits was brought to an abrupt stop.

Hearings on this measure will begin May 12.

HARDING RECALLS DAYS WHEN HE WAS A NEWSBOY

BOSTON, May 3.—Recalling his days as newsboy and newspaperman in his letter to Harry E. Burroughs of this city today, President Harding said that no incident of the 1920 campaign pleased him more than a call he received from a delegation of former newsboys of his own paper. "The testimony of their friendship and loyalty touched me very deeply," he wrote.

The President's letter expressed regret at his inability to attend a forthcoming reunion of the Boston Ex-Newsboy Association.

"Organizations similar to your own have grown up in many cities, to the great advantage of the newsboys, and also of their members," the President said.

GROCERY STORE ROBBED
The Royal Grocery Store, 3333 Telegraph avenue, was robbed some time between Saturday and Monday morning, and $61 was taken from the cash drawer. The entrance was gained by forcing the rear window. C. E. Archambault, manager of the store, reported the loss to the police yesterday.

PARENT BLOOD TEST TO SOLVE 'MIXED BABIES'

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Dr. Albert Abrams, who has developed a blood test for parentage, may be called upon to play the role of King Solomon in a baby case that has been perplexing the courts of Atlanta, Ga.

Judge Graham, who accepted Dr. Abrams' test as final in determining recently the parentage of Virginia Vitorri, today received from Judge William E. Arnault of Atlanta a request for information regarding the Abrams electronic vibratory system, stating that it might be used to solve the "mixed baby" case involving a dispute between Mrs. Garner and Mr. Pittman as to the parentage of a baby girl.

Judge Graham wrote the Atlanta jurist he was entirely satisfied with the results of the Abrams test in the Vitorri case and forwarded to Atlanta the full report of the case.

BID FOR CUSTER PICTURE

HELENA, Mont., May 3.—An offer of $20,000 by the state of Minnesota for E. S. Paxton's famous painting, "Custer's Last Fight," has caused the State Federation of Women's Clubs to raise $1000 of a fund, $20,000 to retain the picture for this state. The money will be subscribed at the annual meeting in Butte, May 26, it is announced.

TANLAC PUT TO TEST BY NURSE

Characteristic of the statements which have made Tanlac a household word throughout the entire continent is that of Miss Hazel M. Burleigh, 960 Francisco St., Los Angeles. Miss Burleigh is a trained nurse and like so many others in her profession, after having been convinced by actual test of the remarkable results following the use of Tanlac, feels she owes a duty to others to give them the benefit of her experience. Miss Burleigh said:

"Last spring I came off a long, hard case and was very badly run down and weak. I felt the need of something to build me up and bring back my strength. I had heard friends and patients praise Tanlac so highly I got some and it certainly did just what I wanted it to do. By the time I had taken three bottles I was feeling as fine and was as well and strong as ever in my life. I have been in the best of health ever since but should the same conditions arise again I don't hesitate to say I would again get Tanlac, for it was more than satisfactory."

"Since I have found out by personal test that it is a medicine of unusual merit I have suggested it in several cases with gratifying results and in one case of chronic stomach trouble the benefits following were nothing short of remarkable and the patient is now entirely well. I do not hesitate to recommend Tanlac in cases where there is need of a good system builder or in cases of stomach trouble, especially those where formation of gas produces disagreeable symptoms."

Tanlac is sold in Oakland by the Owl Drug Company and leading druggists.—Advertisement.

Three Policies for Public Service Companies

IN CONTRAST with the failure of local regulation, State regulation has permitted and encouraged the adoption of sound principles and sentiments in the public service industry. Local regulations forced the industry into politics, even against its will, and caused the industry and the public to draw apart. Both results proved disadvantageous alike to the companies and their customers. On the other hand, State regulation enabled the industry to withdraw from politics and submit its regulation to an impartial and competent body of experts and also to come to better understandings with the public.

Three fundamental policies guide the public service companies today in their effort to secure recognition by the public of the constructive nature of the work done by them in the common interest of all industries and the justice of their claim to public support.

1—The Policy of Service. An excellent definition of service is that it is "a state of mind—a quality, not a thing." It embraces more than merely supplying a commodity at a given price. The commodity must be of the highest quality and be sold at the lowest price that skill, diligence and reasonable foresight can make possible. It must be delivered promptly and continuously on well understood conditions that apply without discrimination to all alike. And added to this there must be an attitude of friendly helpfulness and willingness to serve on the part of the Company's whole organization and an alertness to effect improvements that will make the service more complete.

2—The Policy of Frankness. Suspicion feeds upon concealment. Where distrust exists, it arises from things imagined and not from things known. The facts today are greatly to the credit of the industry and will do more than anything else to remove doubt, suspicion and questions in the public mind. To welcome inquiry and honest criticism is a safe evidence of sound position.

3—The Policy of Repelling Slanders. The public service industry has suffered outrageously from charges made without knowledge of the facts or, what is worse, in spite of knowledge of the facts. Self-seeking demagogues have made capital of invidious attack and scurrilous abuse. Such tactics will become unpopular with a public in possession of the facts and our political life will be purged of those who possess no better claim to public attention.

SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE WILL BE CALLED

Stephens to Summon Solons
For Reapportionment After Congress Acts.

SACRAMENTO, May 3.—For the purpose of accomplishing reapportionment of legislative districts of the state a special session of the legislature will be called, Governor William D. Stephens announced in a statement issued today.

The time will depend somewhat on the action of Congress in making the usual congressional apportionment among the several states, the governor said, but the extra session will in any event be called in sufficient time to become effective before any preliminary steps are taken for the next general election.

STATE LAW QUOTED
The legislature in both senate and assembly decided that it would not enact reapportionment legislation during the session just closed.

"The constitution of California, section 6, article IV, says in part: 'The census taken under the direction of the Congress of the United States in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty, and every ten years thereafter, shall be the basis of fixing and adjusting the legislative districts, and the legislature shall, at its first session after each census adjust such districts and reapportion the representation so as to preserve them as near equal in population as may be.'"

NEW CONGRESSMEN
"That the mandate of the constitution and the will of the people as regards reapportionment may be carried out, I intend to call a special session of the legislature for the sole purpose of accomplishing reapportionment."

California is also entitled to several additional congressmen. The number will soon be determined at Washington, therefore the time of convening the special session will depend somewhat on the action of Congress in making the usual congressional apportionment among the several states, but in any event it will be in sufficient time to become effective before any of the preliminary steps are taken for the next general election.

College Women Plan Carnival and Dance

A spring carnival featuring a nickel dance, sideshows and fortune telling, is being planned for Friday night in Plymouth Center by the Ala Sekis Club, a group of 25 young college women, of which Miss Grace Arlett is leader. A gift shop is being arranged under the direction of Miss Gladys Tilden. Sweetmeats, ice cream, home-made cake and hot dogs will be offered in special concessions. Gypsy, Hindu and Japanese seers will reveal the future. Champion swimmers of Alameda will be matched in a bulesque swimming match. The following committee chairman are at work:

Miss Bernice Henderson, sideshows; Miss Josephine Gilden, fortune telling; Miss Gladys Tilden, gift shop; Miss Astor Montoya, dance; Miss Dorothy Millicent, sweetmeats; Miss Florence Meyer, ice cream; Miss Eleanor Beck, hot dogs; Miss Dorothy Henderson, posters.

Socialists Win First Victory in Chile

SANTIAGO, April 3.—For the first time in the history of the country the Socialist party has obtained parliamentary representation in the recent congressional election. Two seats in the chamber of deputies were won by Socialists, while the Democratic party, largely supported by organized labor substantially increased its representation.

S. P. HOLDS UP IMPROVEMENT OF GRADE CROSSING

Ambiguity of Decision By State Board Given As Reason For Order.

RICHMOND, May 3.—The improvement of grade crossings in this city will be held up by the Southern Pacific company until the company is assured that the city will pay the entire cost of the work, according to a letter received by the city council last night. The railroad company cited a decision of the railroad commission in support of its contention that the city must bear the cost of the work.

City Attorney D. J. Hall said the decision had been correctly quoted, but that it was ambiguous and might be interpreted in two ways, his interpretation being that the railroad company must bear the cost of paying between the rails and two feet on either side. He said he had taken up a similar case with the railroad commission several months ago, and has asked for a definite ruling bearing in mind the point. Despite several assurances since that time the commission has not responded. Hall said he had referred the new case to the commission, and would again endeavor to get a decision.

The new railroad avenue crossing was the one particularly in question in the communication received by the council last night. The railroad company said it wished assurance that the city would pay for this work. Information that the city did not intend to pay for the improvement had been received through an unofficial source, the railroad company said.

Light Sleepers Protest Against Pumping Plant

San Leandro Trustees May Make Estudillo Ave. Restricted Boulevard.

SAN LEANDRO, May 3.—The matter of the pumping station of the Union Water Company at Kenilworth avenue and Dowling boulevard, which was mentioned at the last meeting of the city fathers as being a possible public nuisance, came before the city fathers again at the regular meeting last evening. Acting on a petition signed by six property owners of this section which stated that the noise from the pump keeps the neighborhood awake at night, the city clerk was instructed to write the Union Water Company and to remedy this condition.

Another petition from property owners along Estudillo avenue, protesting the heavy motor truck traffic on that street was read. Action on the matter resulted in the proposition of the trustees to make Estudillo avenue a restricted boulevard providing the property owners bore the expense of installing curbs and gutters from East Fourteenth street to the foothill boulevard. The matter will come up for discussion at the next meeting of the board.

DOWN ON THE FARM

Country Life Cartoon No. 3 by Eva Steele Rogers

Country Kids, farm kids, of course, are "out of luck"—they haven't any city streets to play in; they don't get a chance to dodge automobiles for a chance to live; there is no "gag" to harry the "cops" and no "cops" to harry. All they have, poor little tykes, is the best there is to eat and drink, right from the places where the Almighty makes it grow; good health to spare; grade schools, swimmin' holes and all the delights that the farm has to offer. Sure, they're out of luck, but they like it.

A report by the building inspector showed that $33,758 worth of building permits had been issued since the last regular meeting two weeks ago. San Leandro building construction is following the general boom tendency of this entire region. In the current matter of the reorganization of the local fire department two more resignations by incumbent firemen were accepted and applicants accepted to fill the vacancies. The resignations were tendered by John Gomez and Arthur Larsen. Scerphio Toli and Roland Esarte were appointed.

A report by the street commission, who have been investigating the condition of Ward street, between Martinez and Alvarado, recommended that the street be paved and the city clerk was authorized to write the C. L. Best Company and the California Packing Corporation to have the work completed before November 1 of this year.

LAWMAKERS FAIR TO LABOR, ASSERTS FEDERATION MAN

New Department of Industrial Relations Promises Well, He Declares.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEABED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. SACRAMENTO, May 3.—The California Legislature, whose forty-fourth session has just been concluded, is subject to some praise and criticism from labor leaders. The California State Federation of Labor, whose review of the accomplishments of the session was made public today, the secretary, said, made particularly good showing by refusing to pass what he termed were "reactionary measures" having the Assembly's seal of approval. Secretary Scharrerberg's review is in part:

The forty-fourth session of the California Legislature was not a progressive assembly. On the other hand, it cannot justly be charged as having been reactionary. By mutual consent a majority of the legislators adopted the general policy to leave well enough alone. For this reason, many of the measures considered by labor leaders and which would have been moved from the respective committees.

"The Senate was in session for a number of bills attacking existing labor laws, although several measures especially aimed at the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act, were sent out on the floor with favorable recommendation from committee dominated by the insurance interests. All of these, however, went to defeat. The Senate made a particularly noteworthy and repeated declining to pass reactionary bills having the assembly's seal of approval.

"Although every effort was made to make a 'reactionary' record, the reaction the promised annihilation of the State commissions which have rendered especially effective service in matters affecting the working people failed to materialize. The Carr-Harris bill establishing the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations was pronounced entirely satisfactory by the representatives of organized labor before it left committee.

NEW DEPARTMENT. The new department will be composed of six divisions, the following existing commissions: Industrial Welfare Commission, Industrial Accident Commission, Commission of Immigration and Housing and the County Labor Statistics. One member from each of the divisions will serve on a council to eliminate overlapping and duplication of activities of the several divisions. The department is to be organized and to submit to the Legislature which meets in 1922 a report embodying a complete plan of reorganization and departmentalization of the four commissions mentioned.

"The Legislature deserves credit for the unanimous adoption of the ex-servicemen's relief program. A particularly sound and constructive measure adopted in this program is the proposal to submit to the vote of the people a $10,000,000 bond issue, making it possible for the former service men to acquire homes and farms, not as a gift, but through long credits and self-help."

VALLEJO FACES DAMAGE ACTION FOR $100,000

Failure of City to Establish Garbage Monopoly To Be Basis of Suit.

VALLEJO, May 3.—Failure on the part of the city of Vallejo to adopt ordinances that would give the Vallejo Disposal Company the sole privilege of collecting garbage in the city of Vallejo and to set a rate of 10 cents a month and to supervise the operation of the incinerator, will mean that the city of Vallejo will face a suit of $100,000 for damages, according to Attorney Roscoe Griffin, legal representative of the company. When the city council met on Monday both Commissioner G. A. Bergwall and R. O. Pierce asked to be excused from taking on the so-called garbage ordinance. After a long discussion Attorney Griffin stated that the contract between the city and the garbage people and the fact that the city council accepted the incinerator as erected by the company will be enough to base his suit.

Virtue Fares Forth Deeked In $60 Suit

SAN ANDREAS, May 3.—An almost forgotten promise made many years ago, brought Walter Dietz a fine new $60 suit the other day, and puts him in the limelight as a young man who has never smoked or touched intoxicating liquor. Years ago James A. Nuland, a great favorite with the youngsters of the town, gathered a crowd of them about him and offered a suit of clothes to any or all of them who, on reaching the age of 18, could truthfully say he had never touched the weed or tasted intoxicants. A few days ago Nuland happened to remember his promise. All the lads have long since passed the age mentioned. Thorough inquiry convinced Nuland that Dietz alone was entitled to the award. Accordingly he mailed him a check.

Sixteen Hens, All White, Bat Over 300 Mark

University Expert Urges Producers to Work For Higher Flock Average.

BERKELEY, May 3.—The highest "batting average" for American hens has just been recorded.

Sixteen hens in the United States, all of them white, have laid over 300 eggs in a year, thus entering the "select" class in the egg-laying league, according to figures last announced by H. M. Butterfield, poultry statistician of the college of agriculture at the University of California.

Oregon has three top-notchers, one laying 330 eggs in 365 days, and two others showing 323 eggs, he says. Across the continent at Storrs, Conn., a White Wyandotte laid 308 eggs, while a White Plymouth Rock and a White Leghorn were good for over 300 eggs at Vineland, N. J.

"A flock of hens averaging eleven dozen eggs and netting 70 cents each above cost of feed would, over 14 cents by raising a flock average just one dozen. A raise of three dozen would probably net over $1.50 above the cost of feed. Such a raise is entirely possible for the average California poultry keeper, when proper attention is given to care and management of the flock," Butterfield states, continuing:

"The college of agriculture of the University of California is working to improve the general flock average in the state and toward this end is encouraging the keeping of records, suggestions for feeding, care and management of the egg-laying contests at Santa Cruz and at Petaluma, as well as for poultry keepers of the state, are being offered by the poultry division. The agricultural extension division has a poultry specialist devoting his whole time to this work. County farm advisers are also helping a great deal in correspondence course on poultry husbandry is available for any resident of the state. It is hoped that no person seeking information on poultry will fail to make the most of these services now being offered by the state university college of agriculture."

Geise was arrested Saturday near Warm Springs by Traffic Patrolman Leon A. Solon, who testified that Geise was going 55 miles an hour, sixty days in jail and the case was successively appealed to the superior court and the appellate court. He announced that he would carry it to the supreme court.

RIGHT OF WAY DISPUTE IS UP TO SUPERVISORS

Highway Engineer Charged With Error in Contra Costa Controversy.

MARTINEZ, May 3.—The controversy which has hinged around efforts of the California highway commission to secure a right-of-way through property of the Crockett Land and Cattle Company that the highway alide at Crockett may be avoided was aired before the board of supervisors this morning and led to charges by Thomas R. Hanna that Highway Engineer Clark had misrepresented conditions in declaring that only a cut of 14 feet would be necessary on the route which he has mapped out when in reality a cut approaching 20 feet will be made under Clark's plan.

Hanna appeared before the board to give his answer to a proposal that he grant a right-of-way through his property 5000 feet long. Hanna said that he desired to have the highway permanently repaired but said he would not consent to any cut of the magnitude that would be necessary under Clark's plans. No action was taken by the board and no comment was made by Clark.

Hanna asserted that the cut that would be necessary under Clark's plans on one point of the route would leave 20,000 cubic yards of dirt with no available place for its disposal. Statements by Hanna were corroborated by H. J. Jones, engineer of the Great Western Power Company. Whether the commission will continue in its efforts to secure the route it has mapped out was not intimated.

Big Industry Wants Silt From Dredger

Director & Gamble propose to erect a $3,000,000 plant here, and will manufacture food and soap products. Gamble wish to use silt pumped up from the dredging work in Richmond harbor to fill in its factory site here and build a permanent bulkhead, according to a letter filed with the city council last night by J. J. Moran, western agent for the company. Moran said the company was anxious to begin work here as soon as the harbor improvement was started. The city council referred the request to the city manager and harbor manager, who will confer with Moran and with Col. H. F. Deakney to determine whether the proposal could be met without adding expense to the dredging work and whether the government would consent. It was pointed out by members of the council that the dredging work could be done by the government and that any proposition for the disposal of the silt pumped from the channel must be approved by the government as well as by the city.

Spelling in Ripon School Is Improving

The average weekly per cent for the entire school is now slightly better than 98.49, whereas 35 weeks ago it was 90. The class average is now 97.5, against 84 when the system was inaugurated. So jealous are the boys over their standing that when one fails on a word, his companions often duck him in the horse trough.

MONEY RAISED BY PUPILS FOR NEEDY FAMILY

MARTINEZ, May 3.—There is a needy and worthy family in the Vine Hill district today that knows the spirit of humanity that prevails among neighbors.

A benefit entertainment given by pupils of the Vine Hill school Saturday night netted $110.85, and this amount is to go to bring many little things of cheer to them. The entertainment was arranged by Mrs. Ethel B. Bernier, teacher of the school.

The entertainment was a real gala event for Vine Hill residents. The school house was packed to overflowing and the little tin box that was used to house the coin raised from the entertainment was overflowing when the evening came to a close.

Thirty students of the school presented the play, "The Stolen Princess," and song selections were given by Albin McMahon, Frank Bennett and Mrs. C. T. Grooms.

The pupils made up in grotesque fashion as fat, goblins and dwarfs acquitted themselves remarkably well. A. N. Klinkner of Oakland heard of the entertainment and demanded a part in it. His part was to keep the thirty youngsters in line and applying grease paint. Six cakes were donated by women of Vine Hill and Klinkner acted as auctioneer. He proved so good that $25 was realized from the cakes and two persons threw in $5 bills for good measure.

Hog-raising clubs are being established in each of the ten centers of Yolo county, and prizes offered to youths making the best showing in their pens. Last year some 2500 Yolo hogs were sold under the hammer, bringing better and quicker money than if by private sale.

TEACHERS CITED ON CHARGES OF BOARD MEMBER

Accused By Director Campbell of Taking Part in Political Meeting.

Business Manager Lloyd Barzee of the Board of Education, Vocational Counselor Thiriot, and Principals Crane, Colton and Moore were last night cited to appear before the board next Monday night and explain alleged participation in a political meeting, as charged by Director Campbell.

Resolution is the result of agitation by Campbell for several meetings. Recently he was told by President Floyd Gray to make his charges in writing. Campbell last night introduced a typewritten resolution which, in part, charges as follows:

"During the first week of April, 1921, the press printed letters reporting that certain members of the teaching force, with Barzee, met I. H. Spiro at the Oakland Teachers' Association headquarters in the Bacon building to secure the endorsement of Spiro as commissioner, with Barzee as sponsor for the meeting. The meeting is alleged to have been held during school time, in spite of a rule prohibiting employees from mingling in politics.

"Hearing demanded a hearing of the charges. 'I know that these facts are true,' he alleged. 'Everybody at this table knows they are true.' 'I am at this table,' said Mrs. Short, 'and I do not know they are true.' 'Then why not prove it?' asked Campbell. 'Why do you sidestep?' 'This,' said Barzee, 'really means an intimidation of the teaching staff.'

"I'll tell you whether this is intimidation," offered Campbell. 'I'm willing to let 'em all come and if I'm wrong I'll bear the blame.' A majority of the Board of Education voted for the resolution, taking the stand that it is best that the teachers appear and refute the charges. Mrs. Short objected.

"It is absolutely disgraceful," she said, "for school principals who have proved their worth to be called thus before this board. If they have done any wrong, let them be called out outside of school hours. I rise to protest at this disgrace."

"If I were one of these men," said Director Young, "I would want to come here in justice to myself." "There are times when this procedure is justifiable," said Mrs. Short, "and other times when it is not. I should consider the source of such accusations."

The board session started with a discussion of the recommendations of the committee of the whole. Concerning the University high school, it was suggested that scholars from outside Oakland should not number more than 20 per cent of the whole except in the case of "sons, daughters and wards of state university or county officials," who may get in even though they bring the percentage above 20.

"This is class legislation," said Director Pease. "It sets a precedent for favored individuals of the whole except in the case of 'sons, daughters and wards of state university or county officials,' who may get in even though they bring the percentage above 20."

"But," objected Director Campbell, "why crowd in state, county or university wards where others are excluded?" "We argue this point unduly," suggested Hunter, "it may result in withdrawal of support by the state university."

"I will permit the insidious approach of special privilege if it may be worse," said Director Pease. "The motion in favor of the sons, daughters and wards was finally carried."

Bids for $12,000 in school supplies were referred to the district attorney. Cochran McCarron, appearing on behalf of the Rotary Club, introduced a resolution that the Board of Education endorse the movement to get all voters to the polls at election time as part of the duty of an American.

S. Church continued his case until May 10.

Deffen, in fighting for Comiskey's freedom, pointed out that he has no prior convictions against him, that his mother, Mrs. Margaret Seward, of 3333 Morgan street, Santa Clara, is ready to take him and that the only persons who protest against his release on probation are the district attorney and sheriff of Alameda county.

FIRST ROUND IN WATER TIGHT IS WON BY GROWERS

Court Grants Temporary Injunction in Los Gatos Creek Suit.

SAN JOSE, May 3.—The 28 prominent growers of the western side of Santa Clara county, who recently brought suit against W. G. Lang, Birdie and Bessie I. Briggs and the Bank of Italy, to restrain those defendants from diverting the waters of Los Gatos creek, on the ground that it would ruin the lands of the plaintiffs if the water were taken, won the first skirmish in the legal battle over the water rights late yesterday when Superior Judge J. R. Welch granted a temporary injunction restraining the defendants. At the same time the Santa Clara Valley Water company, plaintiff in a second and similar action against the above named defendants, lost the opening legal battle, being denied a temporary injunction. The cases will now proceed to trial on the issue for permanent injunctions. A battery of attorneys for plaintiffs and defendants crowded the court room yesterday afternoon, and the proceedings were expected to be long and bitterly contested, with great masses of documentary evidence.

GROCERY BILL OF FRAT HOUSE CAUSE OF SUIT

When Erwin Blair, manager of the H. E. chapter of the Acacia Fraternity at the University of California, instituted a suit against a colored cook, Mrs. Minnie C. Bennett, as head of a private boarding house venture in the summer he neglected to notify the fraternity's regular grocer that she, and not the fraternity, was responsible for things.

Judge Harry W. Puleifer, therefore, heard today the suit of Charles A. Fischer, grocer, against the fraternity for $142 worth of groceries sold and delivered.

The testimony showed that after most of the students who departed in May of last year Blair suggested to Mrs. Bennett that she operate a boarding house in the fraternity quarters, and to have free use of the place and its equipment. Blair returned to give him his board without charge. Mrs. Bennett promptly stocked up, the first order amounting to $142. It was not until after this it was testified that Fischer's regular grocer that she, and not the fraternity, was responsible for things.

CITIES WARY OF MERGER PROJECT, DECLARES REED

Difficulties in Consolidation Plan Are Outlined By University Man.

While expressing himself in favor of a unified government of the various cities and the rural territory of Alameda county in an address before the Oakland Kiwanis club at Hotel Oakland yesterday, Professor Thomas Reed of the University of California, declared that the other cities of the county would have to be thoroughly convinced that it was to their advantage to join such a federation before they could be brought in.

"It will be a hard thing to do," he said, "I am not here to 'kid you' along about the character of your municipal administration in Oakland. It has been true for years, and it still is true, that the workings of the commission form of government in this city are unsatisfactory."

"Cities like Berkeley and Alameda have no desire to limit themselves with such a state of municipal affairs as prevails in Oakland. Ninety per cent of the time," he continued.

Professor Reed, a professor of political science and former city manager of San Jose. He is in favor of the city manager plan and in his address declared that, in his opinion, the only business-like arrangement for government of the East Bay cities would be through the manager plan applied to a charter organizing the cities on the borough system.

Edwards Williams, secretary of the Tax Association of Alameda county, was chairman.

"The present system of separate city governments, supported by a general county machinery, is costly, wasteful and inefficient," declared Professor Reed. "The work of many offices is duplicated twice over."

"Much has been said in the move for joining the cities, but little accomplished. How much the election of the freeholders signifies it is impossible now to say. Their election does not mean that the people are for consolidation and in fact, the people so far have shown little interest in the discussion."

"We must admit at the start that we can't expect to have the same sort of city and county government as in San Francisco. We can't simply annex the other cities to Oakland. Though the high system would be more expensive than the annexation, still we must recognize and preserve the identity of the other communities, and I think it is better to have a little consolidation than none at all."

"The best analogy I can find for the plan as it probably would be worked out would be to compare the cities of the East Bay district and a community organization to the states in their relation to the United States government."

"It will be extremely difficult to adjust the relations of the boroughs in preparing a charter. It will be extremely difficult in other ways to prepare the right kind of a charter. We should proceed slowly and carefully. I believe it is worth the effort, however."

In his conclusion Professor Reed said that other cities have a better municipal administration than Oakland in general, and in some particular cases—making particular reference to Berkeley's police department—and that they would have to have very conclusive proof that they would be better off in a federated municipality than they are at present.

Blood Flows When Pease And Architect Fight at Meeting of School Board

Smashing at each other with fists, biting, gouging and rolling around the floor, Director J. Loren Pease and Architect J. J. Donovan gave the climax to a tumultuous meeting of the Board of Education last night by staging a fight which called for the whole strength of the board to pull them apart.

Donovan laid Pease's cheek open under the right eye. Pease tried to strike Donovan while on the floor. Donovan tried to bite Pease's thumb. The edge of a chair struck Donovan as he and Pease went to the floor, and cut two wide welts over his left temple.

With blood on their faces, the contestants were finally brought to their feet and continued verbal arguments, but the board soon adjourned.

The way was paved for the fight when Building Inspector Joseph Lloyd appeared before the board to describe the condition of the Bay school. Questions were volleyed at him by board members, including Pease and Fred Campbell. Pease brought forth point after point, arguing that the present Bay school is useless.

"TROUBLE IS STARTED" Architect J. J. Donovan, who had been chairman of the Bay school construction, was listening. He sat some distance behind Pease, to the left. Pease finally made a motion that the board adjourn.

Donovan continued to defend the construction.

"I am here to say something before this motion passes and Dr. Pease goes," said Donovan.

"He can't inject himself into this board meeting in this building," said Pease.

"I can't inject myself into this building," said Donovan.

"The Pease motion lost, concerning adjournment."

"I came here to point to errors in the building Inspector's statement," said Donovan.

Donovan started to describe the sanitary construction of the Bay school. Pease interrupted continually.

"This is in keeping with your whole proceeding," said Donovan.

"DONOVAN LOSES TEMPER" Pease started a full explanation of the Bay school. Donovan lost his temper and shouted a remark.

Pease arose and made for Donovan. Donovan, 40 pounds lighter, turned and swung his left arm at the same time. The blow connected.

'WILD MAN' IN MERGE BATTLE WITH OFFICERS

Hermit With Beard Ten Inches Long Is Captured Near Livermore.

Wearing a pair of torn and tattered trousers and a shirt that had been ripped to shreds, barefooted and with a 44-caliber revolver, a "wild man" of the hills who had revealed his name to the authorities as Al Moore, battled for fifteen minutes with Constable Henry Seaband of Livermore and Constable Seaband, who has a summer home at the Sachan ranch in the Dry creek district near Livermore, today, before he was overpowered and lodged in the Livermore city jail.

The man is declared to be insane, and for the past several weeks has been living in the mountains like a hermit, shooting squirrels for his food and in brush patches.

He wears whiskers ten inches long and hair that touches his shoulders. According to Constable Seaband, he was summoned on the telephone by a Christian woman who said there was a crazy man prowling about his ranch and threatening to kill himself and his family.

Seaband and Constable Seaband, who was on duty at the time, went to the ranch and found the man hiding behind a hay press. He approached and the half-naked man jumped toward him with a heavy revolver.

Jail Term Is Promised For 'Baby Farm' Keeper

Testimony that little babies, placed in the "farm" conducted at 3514 Woodruff avenue, Thursday, by Mrs. Emma Garver, alleged keeper of it, for $10 a week, were often cruelly treated, deprived of medical attendance and abused, and that one 18-month girl, in the opinion of a physician, had been burned by hot oil and acid as a punishment, was introduced during the trial of Mrs. Garver in Police Judge Mortimer Smith's court today.

Following the morning session, during which several witnesses for the prosecution testified that Mrs. Garver and her husband, George, had been the "baby farm," the case was continued until tomorrow morning upon the request of the woman's attorney, Irving Magness, after Police Judge Smith openly announced that he was going to give Mrs. Garver a jail sentence.

"CHILD BURNING ALLEGED" One of the principal witnesses put on the stand this morning by the prosecution was Dr. P. Dowling, who testified that he treated Georgia McRay, daughter of Mrs. George McRay, at 1413 Kirkham street, after the child had been removed from the home by her mother, for an abscess under the arm and for a sore about the lower portion of the body.

"It is my opinion," said the witness, "that this sore was caused either by hot oil or acid, and that it was inflicted to punish the child for some offense."

Mrs. Garver was arrested Saturday on a charge of operating a babies' boarding house without a license, following an investigation by the Associated Board of Charities and Complaints received at police headquarters.

She appeared in court yesterday morning and pleaded guilty. Her arrest followed the finding of little Alice Spencer abandoned at the corner of Twelfth and Washington streets, who was taken to the police station and kept in the matron's department until Friday.

The abandoned child was an inmate of the home. When Mrs. Garver was arrested she declared that a woman had called for the child.

"AD. MASQUE SONG 'HIT' AT THEATER" Oakland's "Song of the Ad Masque," dedicated by The Oakland Tribune to the Ad Masque of 1921, made its first bow to the Oakland public last night when, at the American theater, Miss Charlotte Le Nay sang the new official song of the celebrated Oakland social event.

The new song, written by George A. Cummings, former president of the Ad club and noted as a writer of popular songs, is a lively, catchy number the "hook" immediately with the audience on its first hearing last night. The song will be heard again tonight, with Miss Le Nay again singing, at the Oakland social event.

The new song has been published to aid in the plans for the Ad Masque, through the courtesy of The TRIBUNE. It will be a brilliant feature of the Ad Masque, which takes place May 7 at the Auditorium.

"Husband's Jealousy Wins Wife Divorce" Although William E. Clarke began within a week of his marriage to remain out until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning, he was very jealous of his wife and constantly accused her of "making eyes" at and flirting with other men, according to the testimony in the divorce action of Mrs. Inez Clarke.

Mrs. Clarke says that after in-laws at 1436 Oxford street, Berkeley, was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce by Superior Judge W. H. Harris. Mrs. Clarke was given the custody of two small children and $50 a month.

"Son and Daughter Get Lawyer's Estate" The will of Frederick E. Whitney, Oakland attorney, who died from pneumonia several weeks ago, was admitted to probate by Superior Judge E. C. Robinson today. There were 23 heirs, and the estate, valued at about $100,000, was left to a son, Frederick A. Whitney, now in Brazil, and a daughter, Mrs. Edna W. Bentley, of Alameda. Captain W. R. Thomas, named as executor in the will, was granted letters testamentary by Judge Robinson.

"FIREMEN ARE PRAISED" Fire Chief E. J. Whitehead today received a letter from C. C. Anderson, manager of the Hotel Claremont, in which the efficient work of the department is praised for putting out a fire in the hotel last Tuesday. The fire, which started in the kitchen, broke out in six places, but was kept confined to one room.

BURGLARY ATTEMPTED ALAMEDA, May 3.—Burglars made an attempt to jimmie the door of the storeroom of Washington Park last night. The attempt was reported to the police by H. H. MacDonald, the caretaker. The storerooms are stocked up with canned goods, and soft drinks. Owing to this fact, the police are inclined to think that youngsters with sweet teeth may be responsible.

ATHENS, May 3.—Serious outbreaks have occurred between Albanians and Greeks at Coriza, a city on the border between Greek Macedonia and Albania. Eleven Greeks are reported to have been killed and many wounded. The melee was a result of the attack on the Greek Orthodox church by Albanian officers and soldiers who are alleged to have demanded that the service be conducted in the Albanian language. In the confusion the Greek bishop disappeared and his fate is unknown.

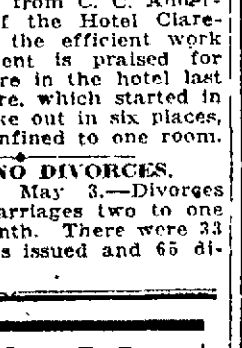

Greek newspapers declare the disturbance was due to French and Italian influence, and it is said the Greek government is sending an army to occupy the disturbed area.

Only Three Members of Assembly Hear Final Fall of Speaker's Gavel.

SACRAMENTO, May 3.—The forty-fourth session of the California State Legislature ended officially yesterday at 4 o'clock when sine die adjournment was taken by the Assembly, the Senate having adjourned earlier in the day. Perfunctory sessions were held by both houses.

Only three members, Ross, Eke-ward and Parker, were present in the Assembly when Speaker Wright asked for a motion to adjourn.

Practically all the members of both houses left for their homes Sunday or early Monday.

Auto Theft Gang Sent To U. S. Jail

DETROIT, Mich., May 3.—Five Bridgeport, Conn., New York and Detroit men, charged with conspiracy to violate the Dyer automobile theft act, were convicted by a jury in the Federal District Court today. The five—Joseph Galbo, Earl Linn and Douglas Moore of Detroit, James G. Burroughs, automobile dealer of Bridgeport—and seven Nyquist, New York and Brooklyn automobile dealers, immediately were sentenced to two years in Leavenworth prison.

Five other persons, one a woman, are serving sentences following pleas of guilty and another is serving a sentence in state prison on another charge.

The government charged a huge conspiracy to steal and transport overland to the East, automobiles, many of which, it was alleged, were exported to Scandinavian countries.

$23,000 in Narcotics Seized in Raid in S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Narcotics worth $23,000 were confiscated late yesterday by federal officials in a raid on a Chinatown rooming house at 48 Stanford, in which it was expected to seize narcotics valued at $500,000. The officers had evidence that $500,000 worth of dope had been removed from a Japanese steamer Sunday and transferred to the house. Inmates of the house who are known to officers to be drug agents escaped. The narcotics were found secreted in the springs of a bed.

What's Happening in the Motor World

by Jim Houlihan

"The fight's the thing." That old phrase must have been ringing in the ears of Roy Skinner and Harry Michener, two clever pilots, members of the Howard Automobile Company staff, who checked in a Buick at Feather River Inn Saturday night, the first car of 1921 to reach this hostile from the San Francisco bay cities. They had been on the road seventeen days between Oakland and the Inn, fifteen of those seventeen having been spent between Sierra City and the summit of Yuba Pass.

It was a real battle to get over the deep snows which buried the natural road from 5 to 10 feet deep, and only the determined, scrappy spirit possessed by Skinner and Michener, aided and abetted by the powerful Buick they manned, enabled them to get over the top, despite the obstructions besetting their path.

What set out to be an easy and speedy jaunt to Feather River canyon had its start in Oakland Thursday afternoon, April 14. Downieville was reached at 2 the next morning. At daybreak on the 15th the journey was resumed and by noon of that day the car and its crew were meeting difficulties in the Sierra snow.

That condition continued the next day, and the following one, and every day afterward until the 30th, last Saturday, when the peak of the pass was crossed and the drop down grade into Sattley started.

Here's the story of the trip as Frank Sanford, manager of the Howard Automobile Company, gave it to the writer this morning:

"Eight and one-half miles of snow-covered roads between Sierra City and Sattley had to be fought every inch of the way. Snow that was frozen during the night and thawed by the rays of the sun the following morning handicapped the gallant crew and the sturdy machine as it bucked and tore into the deep drifts, which were not hard enough to carry the weight of the car and so soft that the wheels couldn't get traction. The road from Nevada City to Downieville is in perfect shape, a gang of 100 convicts having been working on it for some time. The distance which had to be traversed between Downieville and Sierra City is only fair, but when the snow is cleared away and the mud disappears this will be a good mountain road. WHERE PROGRESS WAS MADE

"In its fight with the snow from Sierra City to Feather River Inn good progress was made as far as Hussey's

Hill, seven miles from town, by the Buick and its aggressive crew. Although it was impossible to make more than half a mile a day, due to the many obstacles which confronted the pathfinders, the Buick was kept to its task and at the end of the tenth day the top of the Chapman grade was reached.

"This proved to be the worst stretch of road yet encountered, as the grade is about 22 per cent, and with soft snow, which had drifted in big banks, making the road not only impassable but extremely dangerous, the car and men had a fearful battle to get over the grade. Many times the valiant snow-fighters thought that they were going to slip over the side of the road and slide down the mountainside, but the valve-in-head motor never failed them, and in the most trying moments the Buick proved its true worth and pulled through with flying colors.

DANGEROUS DRIFTS
"Dangerous sliding drifts were obstructing the path to the summit at Dorsey's station, one mile this side of the summit. Here another terrible battle ensued between the car and crew and the snow.

"Again the Buick came out victorious and from that point on it was much easier sailing, although the ordinary tourist would consider even these roads far from delightful highways. Bucking another mile of snow the crew sent the car through to Sattley, and from there to Blaudson, and hence to Feather River Inn.

CHECKED IN BY CARETAKER
"The caretaker of the hotel checked in the Buick and officially credited the crew with being the first automobile party to cross the Sierra Nevada summit this year. This was at 6:40 p. m. Saturday evening.

"Leaving Feather River Inn the car was sent on its way over the state line into Nevada, reaching the Riverside Hotel, Reno, at 10 p. m., where the proprietor officially checked in the car as the first car to reach Reno from San Francisco over the summit of the Sierras since the winter snows blockaded the high mountain passes."

TUESDAY MAY 3, 1921

THE ECONOMIC TREND

The national industrial conference board of New York has been collecting information regarding the course of wage changes in the major manufacturing industries of the United States during the last six years, compared with the cost of living and with data regarding the number of workers employed and the average of work hours performed each week. It has just made public the result of its finding concerning 15 representative industries employing in June, 1920, 530,113 wage earners, during operations from September, 1914, to the end of 1920, and has compared the result with changes in the cost of living.

In December, 1920, the report says, average hourly earnings of male employees in the industries reporting ranged from 127% to 198%, and those of women employees from 111% to 192%, above the September, 1914, level. In certain industries, the hourly earnings of men increased relatively more than those of women—this was true in the boot and shoe, cotton, wool and silk industries. In the hosiery and knit goods, rubber and metal industries, the percentage of increase for women since the beginning of the war was greater than the percentage increase for men. It was found generally true that the industries in which the least increase took place are the ones in which the wage rates were relatively high in 1914, while the industries showing the greatest increases are those which before the war paid relatively low wages.

Some of the industries showing the largest percentage increases in average hourly earnings of men workers are the wool, leather, cotton, hosiery and knit goods industries, while women in wool, hosiery and knit goods, cotton and paper manufacturing showed the greatest increases over 1914.

Average weekly earnings for men and women, the report shows, in general increased less than hourly earnings. The range of increase in weekly earnings from September, 1914, to December, 1920, was from 77% in the rubber industry, to 159% in the chemical industry; for women the highest increase was 157% in hosiery and knit goods, and the lowest was 71% in the boot and shoe industry.

The period covered by the Board's investigation includes the industrial depression which began to develop in the spring of 1920 and with increasing force continued for the remainder of the year. This depression showed itself in irregularity and sharp fluctuations of wages in several industries, due partly to the uncertainty as to future business conditions and partly to the elimination from time to time of wage-earners with low wage-earning capacity.

In June, 1920, the number of men employed in eleven of the industries covered was 404,094 and in December, 304,678, a decrease of 24.8%; the number of women decreased about 26% in this period.

Average weekly earnings, the report states, were affected more than hourly earnings by the industrial depression in the latter part of the year 1920. The principal cause of the decline in the average was the widespread adoption of part time operation made necessary by the reduced market demand. Reduction of wage rates, though of less importance, was a contributing factor to the decline.

The course of average hourly earnings during the last seven months of 1920 was affected by a number of influences, some of which operated to raise, while others tended to lower the average, the report says. There was a tendency of hourly earnings to remain steady, or in some cases to rise, even after weekly earnings had begun to decline through part time employment. As the business situation became more acute, general wage reductions were made in a number of industries.

The investigation indicates that in the eleven major industries for which data from 1914 is available, wages—as measured by hourly earnings and to a smaller extent as measured by weekly earnings—rose somewhat more rapidly than the cost of living up to the spring of 1920. Since then, hourly earnings have declined generally parallel with the fall in the cost of living.

Weekly earnings have, however, fallen more rapidly than living cost, since September, 1920, for the industries covered.

The accuracy of these statistics cannot be vouched for absolutely. It so happens that of three or four agencies of investigations no two reach the same result. The variance may be slight but it is large enough to indicate that the nature of the subject tackled is such as not to permit exact figures. But the general tendency of all is the same. They record the high point in employment which was also the peak of business prosperity, of the cost of living and low unit production of industrial operations.

They record also the reaction against this abnormal situation, a reaction that expresses itself in increasing idleness, descending wages and descending living costs.

This journey down the slope from the peak is the natural and necessary process of deflation of all abnormal wartime values. It is now possible to take courage from the fact that bottom has been reached in many lines of deflation and nearly reached in all. The point from which to begin recovery is within sight. To start early and to start out right there should be a mutual understanding on the part of all the interests involved of the verdicts necessary to accept and the conditions which must be recognized.

If the journey to recovery of confidence in the first place and of prosperity in the second place is to be begun promptly there will have to be shown a spirit of willingness to accept new conditions, to play fair with each other, and with the public.

THE NEWBERRY CASE.

By an unanimous decision the United States Supreme Court has reversed the verdict of guilty of the United States District Court of Michigan handed down against Senator Truman H. Newberry and sixteen others for violation of the federal corrupt practice act. Senator Newberry and his codefendants were charged with spending a larger sum than authorized by federal law in the primary election at which Mr. Newberry was returned victor over Mr. Henry Ford.

The Supreme Court bases its judgment of reversal on the unconstitutionality of the federal act. It denies Congress the power to enact laws regulating primary elections. Presumably the theory is that the States have reserved to them under the Constitution the complete power to nominate citizens for federal office and the federal government has no right to interfere. There were two Justices who dissented from this view, Chief Justice White and Mr. Justice McReynolds, but who agreed with the decision of reversal. The Chief Justice agreed with the constitutionality of the statute but held that in the prosecution and conviction of the defendants the law had been grossly misconstrued.

The fact that agreement was unanimous removes all possibility of justification for the charge that partisan politics had any influence in the deliberations of the court. The Chief Justice, Mr. Justice McReynolds, Mr. Justice Brandeis and Mr. Justice Clark are Democrats. The effect of this decision will unquestionably be to provoke Congress to a reconsideration of the laws concerning the election of federal officers. It will be proposed, doubtless, to give to the government authority to regulate the conduct of congressional and presidential primaries as well as the general election.

In the meantime, the whole corrupt practice act is nullified. And since the Chief Justice declared it to be "grossly misconstrued" in the Newberry case, it was of little use anyway.

King Constantine caused Greece extraordinary woe when he deserted her best interest and became so pronounced in his German sympathies that it was necessary to the public safety to send him out of the country. After awhile the Greek people forgot this experience and voted to restore Constantine to the head of the government. The first contribution of the returned monarch was the military disaster in Asia Minor, in the campaign against the Turkish Nationalists. Now the Greeks are talking about forcing the second abdication of Constantine. They are perhaps sensible of their mistake to a degree that induces serious thought. They are beginning to realize that they were victimized by monarchist politicians.

It is significant of the change in standards for measuring the public interest of a news story when the announcement that a moving picture actress is considering moving her home to San Francisco wins the most important position on the front page of a San Francisco newspaper. The city across the bay seems to be living on emotions these days. If it is not careful it will have to blush when it recalls what it has said about Los Angeles.

The prune growers of California have signed up for operation under a cooperative marketing agreement during the coming season. But the apricot growers are reported to be in doubt and hesitant. The fruit growers have their own ideas about steps for their protection and advice should be offered with due reserve. But they might take kindly to the reminder that cooperation is never so badly needed, nor so beneficial, as it is in a falling market.

It is a peculiar thing in divorce cases that the wife is always able to deny many more charges of misconduct than the man is ever able to deny in or out of court.

NOTES and COMMENT

The Japanese crown prince is on his way. It is understood to be part of the scheme for the British crown prince to extend hospitalities, but the German crown prince does not appear to be included in the program. Crown prince amusements are on a different basis from what they used to be.

Conditions do not seem to be favorable for making a point by hunger striking in Russia, yet there is a dispatch telling about an American seeking his release in that way. All accounts in this regard indicate that nobody gets very much to eat in that country at best, in which case it would seem that when one knocks off eating he is more likely to be encouraged in it than otherwise.

The editor of the Morning Standard is quick to see the advantage to be gained from a court decision. "The State Supreme Court having held that a husband cannot be forced to pay for damages inflicted by his wife, we have about decided to let our wife take the machine out once in awhile now."

If the news from Athens is right, and the Greek prince is to arrange for the abdication of Constantine he may be in order to wonder what his second term was based on if it is so soon to be done for.

We have only the word of Mrs. Julia Jenkins of Ashbury Park to rely on that Lloyd George is to visit this country in the autumn, but it would be a mutually distinguished occasion. This country would feel honored by the presence of one who has figured so large in the world's doings, and he would have a chance to appreciate the appreciation of such a discerning people.

One of the most unlovely of characters is a Peeping Tom. It is a case of degeneracy which normal persons find it difficult to understand. The profit or satisfaction it yields is not at all computable by any rules that regulate the actions of those who proceed on rational lines.

According to the Sacramento Union, Oakland seems to have company as to a certain matter: "The State Railroad Commission recently ordered the Southern Pacific to erect a new depot in Oakland and now a similar order has been issued with regard to a union depot at Los Angeles. What about long-suffering Sacramento?"

The appearance is that the legislative representatives from the South traded just as hard as they could on the harbor control bill, but they deny it so strenuously that it may be concluded that there is another explanation of the saying that appearances are deceitful.

The news that sheep sell for 35 cents apiece in New Zealand is interesting to read, especially when it is remembered that the price of sheep meat remains pretty well at war altitudes here. However, each country will have to attend to its own mutton.

It is stated in the accounts that the Legislature upheld the administration policies. Recalling some of the episodes of the session it is remembered that it required some decisive herding of members to bring about this result.

Chico is to the fore again with an episode in which a woman with a gun stands off the town. Chico has heretofore proven herself to be valiant and now it turns out that it is being gallant, that she is not let a woman thus have her way.

There are numerous small towns in Superior California that could gain materially in population and business by dint of concerted effort intelligently directed—the "long pull, the strong pull and the pull altogether" that usually wins if the aim be feasible. THE PERILS IN A KISS.

"A kiss must mean either very much or very little. There are maidens to whom it signifies a life's devotion. There are men whose blood it fires with burning passion. There are couples of different sex who jointly consider their first kiss a matter of supreme importance, and, the temporary rupture over, at once begin to discuss the possibilities of parental approbation and the ways and means of matrimony. A kiss may be the very devil of a thing, leading to two or three dozen honorably born grandchildren, or to suicide, or to celibate addiction to cats, or to the fate of Abelard, or to the fall of Troy. . . . ROOT AS ENVOY TO EUROPE.

It is understood in the national capital that President Harding has asked, or intends to ask, Elihu Root, former secretary of state, to go to Europe as a special envoy to negotiate settlements of several outstanding questions—for instance, those concerning the Yap question, the rights of American citizens in Mesopotamia and other mandate territory, the attitude of the United States toward the League of Nations.

Mr. Root would be the right man to send as such envoy. He and Secretary of State Hughes are personal and political friends. They would work harmoniously. They would know how to be firm without resorting to bluster or veiled threats of coercion. They would be moderate and just in making demands which old-world statesmen would be predisposed to give sympathetic consideration.

There is opposition to Mr. Root, as there was to Mr. Hughes. But doubtless President Harding is able to estimate the exact strength and purpose of the opposition to the eminent gentleman who has been called "the intellectual head of the Republican party."

Every treaty or agreement which Mr. Root may help to draft and negotiate will have to be submitted to the Senate for discussion and ratification. Indirectly this means submission to public opinion. Meanwhile it is important to have an exceptionally able and experienced statesman in charge of the preliminaries.—Chicago News.

About YOUR HEALTH

What "Pink Eye" Really Is and What to Do About It

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.,
Commissioner of Health, New York City.

In conjunctivitis, or "pink eye," redness of lids and eyeball will be noticed at once. When the lower lid is pulled gently away from the eyeball, it will be seen that swimming in the excess of tears are bits of flakes of mucus. In the morning the eyelids are glued together by the hardened secretion.

In uncomplicated conjunctivitis there is little or no pain. There may be some smarting and burning, a feeling of heaviness and possibly slight sensitiveness to light. Bad as the eyes look, they cause little suffering.

The degree of pain any inflammation may cause depends to a considerable extent upon the firmness or elasticity of the structure involved. If it is in the covering of a cornea, due to a bruise of some sort, there is great pain, because the structures are unyielding, and, as a result, the sensitive nerves are pinched and utter their protest.

The mucous membrane lining the eyelids and covering the white part of the eyeball is loose and soft. There must be a lot of swelling to take up all the slack so to speak. Consequently, there is little pain in inflammation of these tissues in conjunctivitis or "pink eye."

Such an inflammation of the eye is due to some sort of infection. There are several germs which may be the cause. The rapidity and severity of the inflammation depend upon the form of germ which one may "pick up."

Certain forms of conjunctivitis are communicable, and may be passed on from one person to another. Such varieties of conjunctivitis are called "pink eye."

"Pink eye" appears at certain seasons and may attack every child in a schoolroom. The discharges are left by the hands of the victim upon the bookshelves or some book or playing thing. These are then taken by the hands of another, and by wiping the eyes are conveyed to the eye tissues.

Cleanliness is of first importance. Plain water may be used, or solution of boric acid, five grains to the ounce.

In "pink eye" the best local remedy is chloride of zinc, one grain to the ounce. A little of this should be dropped into the eyes three or four times a day.

The redness may be bleached out temporarily by the use of adrenalin chloride. Thirty drops of a one-to-one-thousand solution may be dropped into the eyes every hour or two. Hot water compresses will hasten the banishment of the trouble.

If the trouble does not clear up speedily or if the pain and redness increase the doctor should be consulted. One cannot afford to take chances with the precious eyes.

GIVE US THE BUDGET

In easier times the country got along after a fashion under the present system. There had long been complaint about it. But in these times of vast debts, high taxes and enormous expenditures, it is in the highest degree necessary that strict business methods be applied to Government. There is no danger that we shall be too scientific or businesslike. The Republican party is strongly pledged to the Budget, which it declared to be "a necessary instrument for a sound and businesslike administration of the nation's finances." It now seems highly probable that this "necessary instrument" will at last be supplied.—Indianapolis News.

Remains of Roger II Found in Canterbury

LONDON, May 3.—Excavations at St. Augustine's College, Canterbury, have resulted in the discovery of the remains of the archbishop of the tenth century. Thus a further important link with the past has been established.

It is a tomb, hitherto undisturbed, containing the remains of Abbot Roger II, or Roger of Chichester, who, according to contemporary historians, was elected abbot in 1122, died twenty years later and was buried beneath the altar of St. Katharine.

Upon a finger of the right hand was a ring of copper gilt, while by the side lay the remains of his pastoral staff. Resting on the breast was a leaden plate bearing the following inscription:

X REX ROBERTUS DMC ROGERS
SCEDES QVONAM ABBAS HVIVS

Loel Qui Obiit: Anno: Incarnacionis: Dominice: M: Cc: LXXII: Idus: Decembar.
The ring, the remains of the robes and the plate have been placed with relics of previous discoveries in the college museum.

Peace Is Hope of War Veterans of '98

LONG BEACH, Cal., May 3.—Hope that the United States has "done with wars" was expressed as the keynote of several speeches here yesterday at the assembly of more than 1000 delegates to the eighteenth annual state encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans.

The opening session was a joint meeting of the veterans of 1908 and the women of the auxiliaries. The session will last two days.

United States Regarded With Affection by People of Tahiti

MAJOR E. H. PERSHING, U. S. A., and MRS. PERSHING, who are back from Tahiti.

Cousin of Gen. Pershing Is Honored by Natives and Learns Their Sentiments Toward America

The natives of Tahiti and other French possessions in the South Pacific believe that America is the best country in the world and hope to ultimately come under the protection of Uncle Sam, according to Major E. H. Pershing, U. S. A., retired, cousin to General Pershing, who arrived here aboard the steamer Tahiti, accompanied by Mrs. Pershing, from a tour of the South Seas.

When the Tahitians learned that the relatives of the distinguished American army officer was visiting them they turned out in great numbers to do them honor. The visitors were wined and dined by the populace and also by the former members of the royalty. The notable dancing girls performed at the various receptions and the Americans learned how to eat the little raw fish always served on gala occasions.

The Pershings motored across the continent from their Long Island home several months ago and expect to return by the same method of transportation. They will first visit in California and after making a few arrangements in the East expect to return to California and reside permanently.

Major Pershing said: "We Americans have always believed that this is God's country and that California is particularly the chosen part. It appears that the natives of the South Seas share this conviction. When we return to California to remain it is our hope to locate in Oakland or Berkeley, because we have a number of friends there and also believe that the climatic conditions of the Eastbay cities cannot be surpassed."

"In reference to this boost campaign now being conducted I wish to say that California's best press agents consist of Eastern people who visit here and then go home and make a just comparison. The states east of the Rockies are well supplied with California boosters."

Two Men and Woman Tire of Marriage

Naming G. C. Berry of Berkeley in his complaint, George L. Demartini of 1610 11th street, Berkeley, today filed suit for divorce from Mrs. Alice Demartini. The couple married October 28, 1918, and separated March 28, 1921.

William W. Dean was reduced to such a state that he was virtually a "man without a home," he alleges in his divorce affidavit. He charges that Mildred L. Dean used vicious language and that he had to move from place to place. They were married February 11, 1907, and separated April 1, 1918. Dean asks the custody of 12-year-old Thelma.

Mrs. Alice MacAuley complains in her divorce suit that Reese MacAuley, 2120 Kittredge street, Berkeley, proprietor of a rooming house, called her vile names, frequently left his home on secret missions with his packed suitcase, represented that he was a single man to other women, and that he falsely accused her. She asks $25 a month alimony. They were married May 15, 1920, and separated seven months later, November 8, 1920.

Smith College Girl Ends Life By Hanging

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., May 3.—The body of Miss Harriet A. De Lancey of Waterbury, Conn., sophomore at Smith College, was found hanging by a rope from the top of a shed near the college campus yesterday.

In a diary belonging to Miss De Lancey, who was the daughter of a prominent family, it was stated that the bureau of international relations of the United States Shipping Board, was a statement saying she was disappointed because she felt she had not made the success of her life that she had hoped.

POET MARKHAM WELCOMED BY WRITERS' CLUB

Beloved Man Is Honor Guest At Luncheon Given At the Y. W. C. A.

Greetings were extended to Edwin Markham, noted American poet, author of "The Man With the Hoe," and former school principal of Oakland, at a special dinner given in his honor last night at the Y. W. C. A. by members of the California Writers' club. About 100 members and guests attended the dinner and paid homage to the popular writer.

Following the dinner short addresses of tribute were made and messages of greeting to the poet from Charles P. Lummis of Los Angeles, and Melville Anderson, professor of literature at Stanford University, were read. Frederick Faulkner of The Tribune also extended greetings to Markham.

After a brief address by Charles Keeler, president of the California Writers' club, who introduced the poet and told of the purpose of the dinner, several speeches were made. These included remembrances by Miss Chandler of Oakland schools, who cited instances of the time when Markham was connected with the school board, and the reading of an original poem by Miss Ormerda Harrison, written especially for Markham's birthday four years ago, and read throughout the east.

The affair was closed by a short address by Markham, who declared that he was glad to come back to Oakland, if only for a brief visit, and that some day he hoped to return and make his home in California. He recited a number of his poems, including "The Man With the Hoe," by special request.

President Sarmiento, of the Argentine, sometimes referred to as the Abraham Lincoln of that country, was practically the founder of the present educational system of this South American Republic.

CHARM, THE HERITAGE OF ALL

Attractive! Why, she was like a picture of radiant youth in springtime. Ultra smart, well groomed and so charming one loved to look at her, and her clothes were in such good taste and in such abundance. For each occasion she had the proper setting.

Beholding her, one realized how much individuality clothes impart to the wearer. One should certainly seek to make oneself attractive by the wearing of beautiful clothes, and there are two stores in town that make it possible for us all to have them, and these stores are Cherry's (the store for women at 515 13th street, the men's store 528 13th street). For here, if we are without funds, we can buy low priced and high quality apparel on credit—and keep on buying more and more and paying for them as we earn.—Advertisement.

Charm of Motherhood

THERE are many homes once childless that now are blessed with healthy, happy children, because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored the mother to a healthy, normal physical condition.

The following letters give the experience of two young women and prove the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in such cases.

Chicago, Ill.—"I was always tired, my head ached, and my back ached until I could hardly stand the pain. I doctored for years, and the doctor said nothing but an operation would help me, and that I could not have children. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took six bottles of it and it helped me wonderfully, and I now have a fine baby boy, thanks to what your medicine did for me in restoring my health. I can highly recommend the Compound to all women who suffer from female ills."—Mrs. Wm. Reiss, 304 Willow St., Chicago, Ill.

Marinette, Wis.—"I was in a very nervous condition, was irregular, and could not have any children. I took doctor's medicine without success, and he advised an operation. My husband brought me one of your booklets and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon felt benefitted by its use, became regular, and now we have a fine baby girl after having been married nine years. I am always glad to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to my friends who suffer from such troubles."—Mrs. H. B. Hixen, 330 Jefferson St., Marinette, Wis.

Present this coupon to your dealer. He will give you a delightful ten-day test of a new teeth-cleaning method which millions are employing.

Watch the effects, quick, pleasant and conspicuous. Watch the new luster that comes. In ten days let your mirror tell you the way to pretty teeth.

Leading dentists everywhere advise this method now. You will see and feel the reasons when you make this test.

End the dingy film

The chief purpose is to fight film. This viscous coat, which you can feel, causes dingy teeth and also most tooth troubles.

Film clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The old ways of brushing did not end it. So film-coats night and day threaten serious damage.

Film is what discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. All these troubles have been constantly increasing. Despite the daily brushing with old methods, very few escaped them.

Now you can fight it

Dental science, after long research, has found ways to fight that film. Able authorities have proved them effective. Now leading dentists everywhere advise their daily use.

The methods are embodied in Pepsodent, the new-day, scientific tooth paste. Millions of people now use it, and the use is fast spreading the world over.

That is the dentifrice we urge you to try. Your druggist has a free tube for you. Enjoy its effects for ten days, then judge them for yourself.

Also starch and acids

Modern diet makes other things essential. And those essentials are embodied in this scientific tooth paste.

Each use of Pepsodent multiplies the salivary flow. That is Nature's great tooth-protecting agent. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's agent for neutralizing acids which attack the teeth.

Men's tobacco stains

Men who smoke stain these film-coats with tobacco. The use of Pepsodent brings them conspicuous effects.

Food stains with women make these film-coats dingy. The glistening teeth seen everywhere now show how Pepsodent removes them.

But children need Pepsodent most. Their teeth are most subject to film and starch attacks. Very few escape them. Dentists advise that they use Pepsodent from the time the first tooth appears.

The results of Pepsodent are quickly seen and felt. No user can long doubt them. A book we send explains the reasons for them. A very short test will convince you that this new way is essential.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Watch the other good effects.

Then you will see and feel and know that Pepsodent is necessary. You will realize that old methods were not right. And this discovery may bring life-long benefits both to you and yours. Present this coupon to your dealer this week. Cut it out now.

The
U. S. ROYAL CORD

A famous tire—a famous tread. Acknowledged among motorists and dealers alike as the world's foremost example of Cord tire building. Always delivering the same repeated economy, tire after tire, and season after season.

The stripe around the sidewall is registered as a trademark in the U.S. Pat. Office.

The Tire Situation Right Now

WITHIN the next 24 hours American car owners will buy around $2,000,000 worth of tires.

People will say that here's another picture of American buying power.

Forgetting, perhaps, that the thinking power of the average citizen is the thing to be dealt with today.

Spectacular money and runaway expense don't go with him any more.

When he sets out to buy a tire he is not interested in big sales figures, but in the one individual tire he is getting here and now.

There is a movement among tire-dealers to make tire-economy a reality to the car owner.

These dealers are handling nothing but United States Tires. Gearing-up to meet the new thrift-times.

A customer comes in and asks for, let's say, a 35 x 5 Royal Cord. His size is in stock. No waiting. No being talked into a "second-choice" make or a "job-lot".

Open good faith on both sides of the deal.

And the purchaser goes away with a fresh live tire of current manufacture.

All this is economy and service.

And there isn't any other kind of economy and service.

There are thousands of dealers right now who are concentrating on United States Tires.

Thousands more are getting ready to do the same thing.

They believe in U. S. quality, in the U. S. square policies—to the full extent that they put their whole personal investment behind what U. S. stands for.

It is a pleasure to say that these tire men are laying the corner-stone for a tire service far ahead of anything the motorist has ever known before.

Go where you find the U. S. Sign and see.
